ATTITUDE OF GREECE CAUSES UNREST AMONG THE ALLIES

French and Serbs are Driving Bulgars Before Them and New French and British Troops Arriving at Salonika Hurry at Once to Front—Bulgars Are Greatly Demoralized at Katchanik Pass.

By Associated Press.

London, November 13. — Uneasiness is being shown by the entente allied powers over the attitude of Greece, and this feeling is not likely to be allayed by the latest news that a German military mission has arrived at Athens, by way of Bulgaria and Saloniki.

Official circles in Paris profess to believe there is no possibility of Greece changing her present attitude for one distinctly favorable to the central powers, but rumors of such a step being in contemplation become so persistent that the Greek minister to France felt called upon to visit the foreign office with assurances of Greece's continued adherence to her traditional friendship for France.

News from the eastern front are that Field Marshal von Hindenburg's situation in the Riga district is becoming extremely difficult.

The Russians, continuing their attack west of Lake Babit, are reported to be forcing the Germans into the woods and marshes, which greatly hamper the movements of the Teutons.

Saloniki, Greece, November 11, via Paris, November 13.—The entire Bulgarian force operating west of Vardar have been endangered by simultaneous offensives undertaken by Serbians and French troops, according to advices from the front received here.

The Serbians have resumed the offensive in the Supagora district and are reported to have defeated the Bulgarians at Katchanik pass, inflicting such heavy losses that the invaders were demoralized.

Two French cavalry raids are said to have cleared the ground between Krivolak and Veles.

British and French reinforcements arriving at Saloniki in force and are being immediately sent into Serbia.

ROSS LEADS

By Associated Press.

Columbus, November 13 — Seventeen children of each 1,000 born in Ohio last year were illegitimate according to a detailed report made public today by the state registrar of vital statistics. The average of Ross is the highest of any county in the state.

The total number of births was 101,807 and 1,748 of these were illegitimate, making a rate of 1.71 per cent of all children born.

The number of illegitimate births in Fayette county was six, making the rate 1.65 and Ross county, 30, making the rate 3.76.

MAY IMPRISON INTERNEED MEN

By Associated Press.

Washington, November 13.—Navy officials are so stirred at the escape of a seaman from the interned German cruiser at Norfolk, following closely on the recent escape of a party of non-commissioned officers, that today they asked the State Department to what length the marine guards stationed about the ships would be justified in going to stop the series of unauthorized departures.

The possibility of bringing the Germans ashore and placing them in a guarded camp for safekeeping, was being discussed again.

The State Department will look up precedents, to learn whether the marine guards have a right to shoot if necessary.

ANCONA WAS RIDDLED WITH SUB. SHELLS

By Associated Press.

Paris, November 13. — Mrs. Cecile L. Greil, of New York, a passenger on the Ancona, told a graphic story of the sinking of the vessel to a Havas correspondent.

The Austrian submarine fired on the Ancona while passengers were trying to seek safety in the boats, according to Mrs. Greil.

She escaped only by dropping from the deck into a launch, which was already in the sea. Her maid was killed in their cabin by a gun shot.

Mrs. Greil's story indicates the Ancona was not torpedoed until she had been riddled with shots by the submarine during the night.

Survivors of the sinking declare that a submarine during the night chased the lifeboats and capsized some of them.

A dispatch from Malta says it is learned from a reliable source that one American was drowned or is missing.

The total number of survivors landed on the Tunisian coast is 252.

JULIA NOW IS NERVOUS WRECK

By Associated Press.

Atlanta, Ga., November 13. — Dr. Alleyne Hensley, announced in formal invitations and in society columns of local newspapers as "the fiancée of Miss Julia Crumley," a music teacher of this city, existed only in her imagination.

Not until Miss Crumley had gone to Chicago, identified the body of an unknown man, killed in a railroad accident, and shipped it here as that of Dr. Hensley, did her family and friends suspect anything unusual.

She is being attended by nerve specialists today at the home of her father.

The funeral had been set for Thursday at the undertaker's parlors. Those who saw the body today said it was evidently not that of a man accustomed to the life usually led by a surgeon. An effort was being made to have Chicago authorities take it back.

Two years ago, Miss Crumley was at Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore undergoing an operation. On her return she told her family and friends that Dr. Alleyne Hensley had performed the operation and they had fallen in love with each other.

BRITISH SUB SUNK

By Associated Press.

London, November 13.—An official statement given out today by the Admiralty, announces that the British submarine E-20 has been sunk by the Turks in the Sea of Marmora.

A statement says the submarine, which was on detached service in the Sea of Marmora, had not been communicated with since October 30.

The statement also says the enemy has announced that three of her officers and six men of the crew have been taken prisoners.

A Turkish official statement says the submarine was of the most improved type.

EXPORTS ARE ENORMOUS

By Associated Press.

New York, November 13. — The greatest volume of exports ever reached at a single port, in the history of the United States, left New York harbor during October, mostly for the warring nations of Europe, according to estimates made today by customs officials here.

The total, based on tabulations that are nearly complete, will not fall far short of $175,000,000, or about $7,000,000 a day for every work day of the month.

In September, exports from New York totaled $162,000,000.

BOMB FOUND ON PASSENGER

By Associated Press.

New York, November 13. — Two sticks of dynamite, a form of dynamite used extensively in coal mines, were found today in the baggage of a man about to board the American line steamer St. Louis, five minutes before she sailed for Liverpool.

The man, who said his name was Abraham Cummings and his nationality British, was arrested and the explosive taken from him.

Detection of the dynamite was brought about by Cummings' strenuous objection to the customary examination of baggage, which all passengers have to undergo.

WILSON AS BEHELD BY DERNBURG

By Associated Press.

Berlin, via London, November 13. — An article written by Dr. Bernard Dernburg, reviewing in general American relations to Germany and Great Britain, occupies the entire first page of the Tageblatt.

It is written in the friendliest spirit toward President Wilson and the United States.

Dr. Dernburg speaks of Germany's "wise giving in" in the Arabic case.

He is inclined to believe that Mr. Wilson would press for a settlement with Great Britain as rapidly as possible; not because this was in accord with American diplomatic traditions but because of the pertinacity of Mr. Wilson's character, with its single-track mind, and because of the imminence of the meeting of Congress and the presidential election.

KAISER IS ON BALKAN FRONT

By Associated Press.

London, November 13.—Emperor William has begun a tour of the Balkan front, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to London, having passed through Orsova, Hungary, Thursday, on his way to Sofia, where he will visit King Ferdinand, going thence to inspect Field Marshal von Mackensen's armies in Serbia and afterward to Constantinople.

FEW MINERS NOT EMPLOYED

By Associated Press.

SIXTY THOUSAND WATCHING GAME

By Associated Press.

Yale Bowl, New Haven, Conn., November 13.—Sixty thousand persons gathered here this afternoon to witness the annual football game between Yale and Princeton.

The playing field was dry and fast. At the end of the first period neither team had scored.

Shortly after the second period began, Guernsey, of Yale, kicked a goal from field, making the score Yale 3, Princeton 0. Later Princeton scored a touchdown and kicked a goal.

Yale made another goal, and at the end of the second period the score was Princeton 7, Yale 6.

LAKE BOAT GOES DOWN

By Associated Press.

Erie, Pa., November 13. — The freighter P. D. Armour, of the Boreland-Cornelius Line, from Cleveland to Buffalo with coal, struck on a shoal in Lake Erie off Waldersmere, four miles west of here, last night, and after being grounded for hours, by a heavy sea, sank this morning.

Part of the crew was taken off early in the day, but the captain and three other men stayed on the boat until 9 o'clock, when they were rescued with difficulty by a life-saving crew.

First reports that a tug of Ashtabula, towing the Armour, and another tug had been sunk were later disproved.

GIRL STRIKERS BACK AT WORK

By Associated Press.

Sebring, O., November 13. — The strike of 100 girls of the five potteries here ended today when they agreed to return to work on piece work with a guaranteed minimum wage of $9 a week and a possibility of making $12 to $14.

A thousand employees will now return to work. They have been idle four days.

WETS DROP MUCH CASH

Columbus, Nov. 13.—In the big counties the drys spent the following sums in fighting for statewide prohibition: Hamilton, $11,092; Cuyahoga, $10,006; Franklin, $11,000; Lucas, $12,233; Montgomery, $10,451; Summit, $3,324. Wet interests of Ohio spent $362,000 fighting statewide prohibition, according to Graham P. Hunt, wet manager.

The Anti-Saloon league reported receipts and expenses totaling $52,629.56, and a debt of $9,417.56. This represents the organization's expense for the entire year. It is anticipated that county organizations spent more than $125,000. Of the $32,887.83 received by the Constitutional Stability league, which backed the stability amendment, $29,000 came from the Ohio Home Rule association.

NEW AUTOMATIC WILL BE CONNECTED MONDAY NIGHT

"Cut-over" Will Take Place Late Monday Night and New System, Representing Very Latest Achievement in the Telephone World, Will Be in Use Thereafter—First System of Kind in the World.

All is now in readiness for the long heralded change from the present antiquated system of the local branch of the Ohio State Telephone Company to the new automatic system which represents the very latest in telephonic achievement, and is the first plant in the world where city phones and rural lines have been connected so that they work perfectly under the automatic system.

The company has just made announcement that the cut-over to the new system will be made Monday night of next week, and their announcement elsewhere in this issue explains what the telephone subscriber must do to aid in the work.

The actual change from the ancient to the most modern exchange in existence will require about 30 minutes, although it will be necessary to keep a force of men employed throughout the night. The work of changing from the old to the new will be taken up sometime after nine o'clock Monday night, and before midnight the new automatic will be in use.

The present perfection of the automatic is the result of 22 years constant endeavor on the part of the most gifted telephone men, the first automatic, very crude, being invented and exhibited at the World's Fair in Chicago, in 1893.

The automatic was invented by an undertaker by the name of Strowger, who became disgusted at the service obtained through using the old phone, and set to work to eliminate "central" who had "sassed back" at him.

A. E. Keith later perfected the automatic, and Mr. Keith is Chief Engineer of the Automatic Electric Company, of Chicago. At the present time the company is installing automatic systems in a number of Ohio towns and cities. The local plant is the first including rural lines.

It is interesting to know that W. T. Powell, formerly of New Vienna, Ohio, who is with the Automatic Company in the capacity of Experimental Engineer and was in this city testing out the system this week, is the inventor of one of the most important switches making possible the union of the city and rural lines. He invented the Party Line Connector switch.

The new system is really automatic in every way possible, even to an automatic trouble detector.

The only operators necessary are the information clerk and two persons on the toll board.

The old system was operated by means of local dry cell batteries, but the new system will obtain its "juice" from a dynamo at the central office.

For months a number of workmen have been working overtime installing the plant, and when it is known that the plant is composed of hundreds of thousands of parts. The local system has been installed at a cost of approximately $90,000.

For months patrons of the company have waited patiently regardless of the annoyance necessitated by the radical changes made, and are now looking forward to service unsurpassable.

ANTICIPATE IMPORTANT DISCOVERY

Columbus, Nov. 13.—Ellis M. Black, twenty-four, working in the laboratories of the Ohio State university, is believed to be on the brink of a discovery which may revolutionize present theories of human life. Black claims he has discovered a hitherto unknown substance, found in practically all animal and human foods, with which the growth and development of animals can absolutely be controlled. Fed to young animals, Black's mysterious element may cause them to grow twice or three times as fast as a normally fed animal. Deprived of it an animal dies. Deformed and stunted animals furnished with it as a food in varying doses reach full growth, although their period of youthful growth may have elapsed long before. Black's unusual discovery led many to ask the questions: "What will it do for human beings? Can it lengthen the life of man or woman?"

The "Cookie" Baker Man

Out in Wisconsin state there is a man who has made many of the good housewives jealous because of his extraordinary talent as a "cookie" baker.

This remarkable man has succeeded, according to reports which come from the Badger state, in designing and constructing a cookie which equals the wonderful cookie of memory that "mother used to bake."

At the Windsor fall festival this Dane County, Wisconsin, thrasher carried off the first prize on devil's food cake and on coconut cookies, another on baking powder biscuits and a second on lemon pies and that too after spirited competition with some of the best cooks among the gentler sex in all that county.

What an ideal husband this Dane county man would make for some of the girls in the east who can cook successfully nothing save a soft boiled egg.

What perfect peace would reign over him and his household with the original grumbler over cooking always unable to find fault with the creations of the kitchen.

How happy the children of such a man would be with cookies, pies and cakes in numberless plenty and in excellence the equal to any that the fancy of father and mother might call forth in comparison.

Good cookies, good pies and good cakes—good beyond even those of childhood days can do much to keep a family in good humor.

The Arab Worders Why

The spread of the European war through the Balkan states and into Asia Minor is thought compelling.

Even now in Mesopotamia, that part of Turkey in Asia which lies in the valley between the Tigris and the Euphrates rivers is becoming in a measure a part of the theater of war. Turkish, British and Russian forces are now maneuvering, the first for defensive position and the last two mentioned to make a junction with their allies—the one striving to prevent that junction which has for its object the relief of Serbia.

While the actual heavy fighting is still confined to Europe proper, hostile armies are hurriedly massing and marching for position across the historic plains of Asia where warlike men in ancient times strove for the mastery with battle axes, spears, bows and arrows and battering rams.

Six thousands years and more ago men fought and died on the plains of Mesopotamia. Cities and settlements abounded and then as now only the leaders knew the cause of war. The dark eyed, swarthy skinned, white turbaned Arab hosts of Asia Minor watch in wonder the Caucasian "tribes" struggling to attain supremacy by force—struggling in order that might may triumph. They know nothing of the cause of it all. Neither do the soldiers who march and counter march on the blistering sands under the killing rays of a torrid sun.

The cause of war is the same now as it was when Alexander led his hosts.

The Arab in Asia Minor today will search in vain for a new cause of war underlying the struggles between the European armies. Christian nations will be unable to differentiate that cause from the cause which carried tribes of men in ancient times to war and to death and destruction.

Special Elections Expense

It is perhaps of more than passing interest to the people, of Ohio to note that almost one million dollars was spent in campaign and election expenses on five of the special questions submitted at the election on November second.

It will be remembered that there were six special questions of state wide scope, submitted—four proposals to amend the constitution and two referendum elections on acts of the last general assembly.

One of the special matters submitted caused the expenditure of no money at all in the way of campaign expenses by the voters. That one expense free contest was the one on the proposal to amend the constitution to provide for tax exemption of state and municipal bonds.

The liberal forces were the heaviest spenders of money while the opponents of the McDermott liquor license act returned the smallest expense account.

With an expenditure of only two hundred and seventy-five dollars the opponents of the act had the satisfaction of seeing it repudiated by the voters of the state by a majority of considerably over one hundred thousand votes.

Of course the heavy expense accounts filed and the immense grand total of cost will be urged by the opponents of the initiative and referendum as a reason why such power should be taken from the people or its availability curtailed.

It will be interesting to note too that all these objections and the great solicitude for the people's pocket book will come from those who have a special interest in not allowing the people too much power. It is safe to assert that there will be little objection by the people generally.

In passing too it should be observed that practically all of the cost of the elections fell upon those specially interested and the cost to the people generally was infinitesimal—only the cost of printing extra ballots.

Poetry For Today

"SAGES NOT REALLY WISE."

Sages are not really wise
Till they read in Folly's eyes
Lore that puts to route their rules.
Wisdom that escapes the schools.

Tell me! Sages, what love is!
Silent?—But what fool would miss
Kiss or laughter, glance or sigh,
Waiting for your slow reply?

Sages, tell me, what is life?
While your prate of "joy" and
"strife,"
Mumble, definitions give,
Fools like me rejoice to live!

While you labor, dig and seek,
Dull of eye and gray of cheek;
While you study, delve, explain,
Define, examine, think, refrain.

Ponder on the meaning of
Life and Death and Joy and Love,
Laws discover, reasons frame,
We fools are playing at the game!

Seers and Sages are not wise,
Lacking the wisdom to revise
All they've learned and taught in schools
By the laughter of us fools.

Have you ever noticed how much noise the other fellow makes without saying anything? Well, do you need any stronger argument to make you keep your mouth shut?

A man can get 400 love letters from her before he marries her, but he never discovers that she doesn't know how to spell until after he has been married for awhile.

When a man is alive his wife thinks that he is so insignificant that she is surprised that a fly doesn't step on him and crush him. But when he dies she gets the idea that he was so important that she has to go into debt for five years to see that he gets the biggest funeral in town.

HIS HOSPITAL VISIT

The Stranger Who Inspected the Federal Quarters.

HE CHEERED A FEW PATIENTS

But the Secret of the Unknown Doctor's Influence Did Not Become Apparent Until the Next Day and After He Had Taken His Departure.

It was in the spring of 1862, when Stonewall Jackson, marching down the Shenandoah valley, had won a brilliant victory over General Banks, whom he drove north until the friendly Potomac interposed its screen and he found safety and care for his sick and wounded in the hospitals of Frederick.

A new nurse had been assigned to one of the hospitals the day before the battle—a Massachusetts woman named Charlotte McKay, widowed and made childless within a single year. The patients she had under her care were mostly Federals of course, but there was a good sprinkling of wounded Confederates who were prisoners of war.

One day, just after dinner time, the chief surgeon entered Mrs. McKay's ward, accompanied by a stranger. The man had the appearance of a student. His head was bent and his brows were drawn together, with two deep lines between them, as if he had spent long, thoughtful hours at his desk, and his eyes, the color of blue steel, swept the ward with a keen glance that seemed to take in everything. His grizzled beard showed that he was no longer young, but his step and bearing were elastic and vigorous.

"Dr. Janeway is from Louisiana," explained the chief as he introduced the stranger. "He had to abandon a large sugar plantation there when the war broke out because of his loyalty. He was a surgeon in the Crimean war and so is interested in seeing how we do things here."

The stranger chatted genially with the nurses and the surgeon, discussed their operating facilities, compared them with those of the Crimea, questioned them about the rations of the prisoners and accepted a steaming cup of hot soup from the nurse.

The prisoners were watching and listening to all that passed, in strong contrast to the sullen indifference they had shown before. One young Virginian, tall and muscular, looked as if he were about to spring from his cot.

"That boy looks like he came from near my place," observed the southern Unionist. "May I speak to him?"

"Yes, doctor; you may talk to any of them."

With a curiously quick and noiseless step the visitor reached the bed and conversed for a moment in tones that were inaudible to all but the young soldier. He returned in a moment.

"I was mistaken. A chance resemblance deceived me. The man says he is 'bankering for a drink,' nurse. I told him I would ask you for it."

The wounded man drank the water, stretched out on his side and appeared to sleep, while the two surgeons went on to another ward and presently left the building. Mounting his horse, Dr. Janeway bade a cordial goodbye to the chief, bowed with deep respect to the two women and rode slowly out of the hospital grounds.

The prisoners were in better spirits the next morning. A laugh passed from time to time. It was almost as if some excellent joke unknown to their attendants had raised their courage. "Did you know the gentleman who was here yesterday?" Mrs. McKay asked the boy soldier. The lad grinned up at her and replied:

"Yes, ma'am."

"You did? Who was he?"

"It was Stonewall Jackson, ma'am."

The nurse stared, then she said:

"You're making fun of me, Pryor. General Jackson here in the midst of our armies!"

"It wouldn't be the first time," retorted the boy, nettled by her unbelief. "More than once, when he hadn't just the scout he wanted at hand, he has gone on his own errands."

"But what if he should be recognized?"

"Who's to recognize him? None of your folks, for those who would know him are fighting, not nursing the sick. And none of ours, for they wouldn't tell if they saw him. Reason he spoke to me yesterday was 'cause I was showing too much interest. I'm one of his 'foot cavalry,' ma'am. He wanted to know just how we was bein' treated, and so he came to see."

"We try to do the best we can for you, Pryor."

"Yes, ma'am. I told him so. We've been treated a heap better than we expected to be. But it's tough to be a prisoner, you know. And that was Stonewall Jackson."—Youth's Companion.

Nothing Gratis.

"You can't get something for nothing in this life."

"That's right," replied the gloomy citizen. "If I want even a few kind words about my disposition and some hope of future success I've got to go to a fortune teller and pay for them."—Washington Star.

Plenty on Hand.

"Have you ever wondered about your husband's past?"

"Dear me, no. I have all I can do in taking care of his present and worrying about his future."—Boston Herald.

Machine Guns.

Machine guns are really rifles with a mechanical feed, which supplies them rapidly with cartridges. In all modern patterns they are automatic in action. The gas produced by the explosion or shock of the recoil opens the breech, ejects the spent cartridge, loads the rifle, closes the breech and fires the charge. These complicated operations are carried out with extraordinary speed. To give an example: The Maxim can fire at least 450 rounds a minute, or more than seven shots per second, and if in exceptionally good order and cleverly operated can discharge 600 rounds a minute.—London Tit-Bits.

The River Tigris.

The river Tigris appears in the book of Genesis as Hiddkeel, one of the four "heads" into which the river of Eden was parted. The name by which we know it does not exactly "mean" tiger, for the correct way of putting it is that both "tiger" and "Tigris" mean in Persian swift as an arrow. "Euphrates" is a Greek version of the Persian Hurat, which signifies "the good abounding" and represents the old Asiatic Burat or Purat, akin to our verb "pour."

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove it

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system.

They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or disagreeable effects of any kind.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

253 HEAD OF HORSES NOW CONSIGNEE TO FALL SALE

Semi-Annual Sale of Horses
Opens November 17 With Many
Well Known Blue Bloods included in the List—Agents of
Uncle Sam and Warring Nations Will Be Present After
Suitable Animals.

Starting Wednesday, November 17 and continuing three days, the horse will be on the Washington C. H. stage, drawing attendances from all of the country, many visitors already asking for reservations at local hotels.

The attraction to horsemen and breeders of the country will be the Big Fall Sale, which will be held in the sale pavilion. Yesterday the speedway in the pavilion was placed in excellent condition, while horses are arriving in large numbers, so that tomorrow and up to the time of the sale visitors and local horse enthusiasts will gather to watch high-bred trotters and pacers step up and down the speedway, with prospective buyers taking notes.

A total of 253 horses have been listed to be sold during the three days, and while the number does not compare with Spring sales, yet in quality and variety it equals the best collection ever offered to the buying public.

While every department of the sale has its full quota of horse stock yet the best feature will be several famous trotters and pacers.

The real star of the entire sale is the chestnut trotting gelding Pittsburg 2:14 1/4 consigned by P. C. Wyssong, of Spring Valley, Ohio. This trotter started the past season a green animal and out of six starts won five firsts. Horsemen say he is one of the best trotting prospects in the country and it is predicted that he will bring a price well up in four figures.

The largest consignments come from Spruce Lawn Farm, Springfield, Ohio, and Cliff Todd, Montgomery, Ohio. The former have consigned ten head which consists of high-bred youngsters, while Todd is sending the same number, with the noted pacer Martin C. 2:05 1/2 as the headliner. Martin C. has raced at the local fair and as he has a public trial of 2:04 1/2 he should sell for a high price.

Another prominent consignment is the dispersal of Frank M. Ferneau, of Bainbridge, Ohio, which consists of Rose Bond (4) 2:22 1/4, who was a winner at the local fair the past summer, and Ormande Rose and Robert Ormande both of which have demonstrated their ability as classy performers.

On the first day of the sale over one hundred head of horses of all kinds are listed, including several suitable for army purposes. Representatives of foreign governments will be in attendance. According to a telegram received by Charles Allen, manager of the sale, from the Quartermaster at the United States Remount Depot, Front Royal, Va., two representatives of that department will arrive in this city tomorrow and remain until the closing of the sale. It is said that they will purchase horses for service in the United States army.

The sale will start at 10 o'clock each morning and it is possible that night sessions will take place on Wednesday and Thursday. Col. John Pease, of Vandalia, will again be the auctioneer.

CITY SOLONS HOLD CAUCUS ON LIGHTING

A secret conference was held by councilmen, at the Mayor's office, Friday night, when the city solons were called together at the suggestion of H. Whitford Jones, lighting engineer of Cleveland, who arrived in the city Friday evening.

The councilmen held a lengthy conference with the engineer during which plans for the new lighting system were again discussed and it is said some agreement was reached concerning the proposal.

According to announcement authorized by one or more of the councilmen, if the proposed "white way" is not carried out, 100 watt lamps will be used throughout the city for lighting purposes.

The next meeting of council is Monday night of the coming week. It is announced that at the present time more than two-score of the proposed nitrogen lamps have been installed in the city, supplanting the old lamps.

NEWBY CANDIDATE FOR FOR SUPREME JUDGE

Judge Cyrus Newby, of Hillsboro, is a candidate for the position of Supreme Judge, and his friends are now boosting for him.

In a recent issue the Georgetown Gazette says the following concerning Judge Newby's qualifications for the position he seeks:

"His judicial temperament and long and distinguished service on the bench have given him the reputation of being one of the ablest judges in Ohio. Besides being a great judge, he is a splendid gentleman and measured by every standard his elevation to the Supreme Court bench would reflect credit on the electors of our state and add to the dignity and wisdom of a tribunal where some of Ohio's ablest men have sat in judgment.

The Judge's many friends in this part of the state irrespective of their political affiliations are very anxious to see him make the race and if he does so it is safe to predict that the counties in southwestern Ohio will give him such support as few men could secure anywhere."

WALKER AGAIN IN THE TOILS FOR FORGERY

Earl Walker, recently discharged in Ross County where he was arraigned for passing a forged check, which bore the signature of John E. Free, was re-arrested as he stepped from the C. H. & D. train Friday afternoon upon his return to this city.

This time he faces a direct charge of uttering a forged check. The complaint was filed before Justice Craig by Mr. Free, and Sheriff Jones made the arrest.

WALKER IS RELEASED FOR LACK OF EVIDENCE

Earl Walker, Good Hope youth recently arrested for passing a forged check, has been released from custody, the complaining witness failing to establish a case against the young man, who was not bound over as previously stated.

Regarding the Walker case, the Chillicothe News says in part:

"Walker was represented by Walter W. Boulker and City Solicitor Garrett S. Claypool represented the state. Before Walker was arraigned, it was discovered that there was no case against him and he was dismissed. The costs, $11.45 were paid by the complaining witness.

"Walker's counsel in discussing the case said that his client would have been able to show that on the day he is alleged to have passed the check at Bainbridge, he was not in that village, but visiting relatives in Pickaway county. Persons with whom he visited and who were on the train with him were ready to testify as witnesses.

"He could not even be identified as the person who passed the check. In face of those facts there seems to be no doubt but that the check-passer is still at large and that Walker is innocent of the charge of uttering a forged check.

"Attorney Boulker was inclined to believe that the only thing that directed suspicion against Walker was because his name and endorsement were on the check. On the other hand, the writing on the check is said to have been singularly similar to Walker's."

PLANS DISCUSSED FOR IMPROVEMENT

The regular monthly session of the teachers and official board of the Grace M. E. Sunday school, was held at the church Friday night and following a carefully prepared supper which all greatly enjoyed, plans for adding to the interest of the Sunday school were discussed at length.

Superintendent Mrs. Eva J. Penn presided over the meeting and the various members took part in the plans for improving the school, and committees were named to make recommendations for certain changes contemplated.

SUSPECTED BURGLAR SAID TO BE HERE

Sheriff Ben South of Wilmington is busy rounding up a gang of burglars who have been at work in that city, and so far has two negroes under lock and key, and it is claimed they have admitted their part in the affair and involved a man from this county, who will probably be arrested and taken to Wilmington for trial.

The latest stunt of the burglars was the robbing of a tailor shop in Wilmington. The two men were arrested near New Vienna.

RUIN IN A CHINA SHOP.

A Crash That Spelled Agony For the London Curio Dealer.

George Robey, the comedian, frequently drops in for a chat with a dealer in London. In the outer room are vases and jars, cups, groups and sets of pieces valued at anything from 50 to 500 guineas. Inside is the proprietor's private apartment. To reach him you gingerly pick your way through the thousands of pounds' worth of valuable china.

"One day not long ago," Robey says, "I had been chatting within, and a friend was waiting for me in the outer room. As I bade the dealer 'Good morning' and was about to pass into the outer room there came a dreadful crashing of broken china. My friend turned upon me an eye glassy with anguish. Never shall I forget the proprietor's expression of supreme horror as he rushed from his sanctum and saw my friend and myself standing amid the debris of broken chinaware which lay strewn around our feet. He was speechless—choking.

"Legal proceedings? Five thousand pounds? In a word, what was the damage, you inquire. Well, I am sorry to have to confess it, for the proprietor was in bed for a week as the result of the shock, but it was a gag prearranged. For my friend, who had brought with him a couple of dozen cheap soup plates, had, at a given signal from me, dropped them in a heap upon the floor."—London Answers.

FLYING FOXES OF INDIA.

During the Day They Sleep In Trees, Hanging Head Downward.

People who have lived in India are familiar with the long strings of flying foxes which can often be seen wending their way in single file from their sleeping places in remote trees to the fruit gardens upon which they prey.

These curious creatures, says a writer in the Wide World Magazine, sometimes measure as much as four feet across the wings and have reddish brown fur and mole colored wings. After their nocturnal depredations they fly away with the dawn to a tree in some isolated place and there rest during the day, hanging head downward from the boughs in the manner of bats, clutching the branch with their feet.

As the flying foxes gather on the tree selected there is a tremendous commotion, for each newcomer is vigorously driven off from one place after another until he eventually manages to secure a perch for himself. Those on the tree meanwhile keep up an incessant wrangling, each endeavoring to secure the highest and best place to rest on. Sometimes many hundreds of these destructive creatures may be seen hanging from the branches of a large tree.

When opportunity offers they are often shot, and some of the natives consider their flesh a delicacy, though it hardly appeals to Europeans.

A Personal Preference.

A well known magazine writer moved not so very long ago from Brooklyn to California. On the day before the family started west he went for a walk through the neighborhood with his four-year-old son.

"I suppose," said the father, "that you'll be sorry to leave all your little chums here?"

The youngster thought he would. At that he did not seem to show much emotion at the prospect of parting from all his friends.

"Which one will you miss the most?" inquired the parent.

The boy was not sure.

"Now," pressed his father, "which little boy of all the little boys you know do you like the best?"

The little chap considered a minute before answering.

"Well," he said at last, "I guess I like myself pretty well!"—Saturday Evening Post.

Uses of Menu Cards.

"It wouldn't take so many menu cards to carry us through at dinner," said the head waiter, "if people didn't scribble so many notes on them and make them unfit for use. Memoranda of all kinds are jotted down on these cards during a meal. Arithmetical puzzles are solved, the particulars of business deals are worked out, financial problems are wrestled with, sonnets are composed, and social engagements are made and broken. The fact is I have seen about everything written on a menu card except a popular novel, and no doubt I've found the plots of some of them."—New York Times.

Fickle.

"Popularity is very fickle," exclaimed the offhand orator.

"What's the trouble?"

"Every time I get a crowd interested in my remarks an automobile tire blows out and the audience rushes off to see what the matter is."—Washington Star.

In Social Circles

Miss Faye M. Fisher, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Fisher, and Mr. Wilbur Wilson, son of Mr. Alonzo Wilson, were united in marriage by Rev. Pfaltzgraf at the M. E. parsonage in Good Hope, Thursday evening.

Both young people belong to well known Fayette county families and are unusually popular with a wide circle of friends.

The ceremony was witnessed by the bridegroom's father and family; the bride's brother, Mr. Ray Fisher, and Miss Edith Moore.

Mr. Ray Fisher and Miss Ruth Wilson were the attendants.

The bride was wearing a handsome tailored suit of blue satin finished broad cloth, bodice of blue net over white silk, with smart black velvet hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left on the evening train for Columbus and a short wedding trip. Upon their return they will reside on the Wilson farm where their home is cosily furnished and in readiness.

Mr. Wilson is associated with his father in the management of their large farms on the Martinsburg pike.

Both bride and bridegroom have the best wishes of a host of friends.

Miss Doris Willis entertained at an extremely pretty little dinner Friday evening Misses Ruth Grafton, Helen Baker, Virginia Campbell, Alleen Hess, Jocelyn Bowen. Miss Gretchen Willis assisted.

Yellow chrysanthemums were used in decoration.

Mrs. Willard Everhart enjoyably entertained the Golden Rule Circle Class of Sugar Grove Sunday school Friday afternoon.

After the business session a delicious repast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Willson returned Friday night from a week's stay in Lancaster, where they were called by the death of Mrs. Willson's brother, Mr. John Wright.

Moses Moon of London is visiting Orlan Hays over Sunday.

Mrs. F. E. Ross returned Friday to Ironton after a week's visit with friends here.

Mrs. J. D. Rogers and daughter Miss Stella have returned to their home in Columbus, after spending the week with Mrs. Grant Hays.

Russell Mobley is down from the O. S. U. spending Sunday.

Miss Mary Hatch arrived from Dayton Saturday afternoon to be the guest of Miss Helen Harper.

Mrs. Frank L. Stutson and daughter Miss Janet returned Saturday evening from a two weeks' trip to New York and Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmid and little daughter Katharine Mae, went to Columbus Saturday evening to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Evick.

Mrs. Ruth Brownell and daughter Miss Lucy leave Monday for California, via the northwestern route. They will spend ten days in San Francisco, Cal., attending the exposition, before going to Los Angeles, where they will visit relatives and make headquarters for a winter's stay in the land of flowers.

Hon. and Mrs. Frank C. Parrett, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McLean and daughter Katharine, and Mrs. Gerie Spragg motored to Cincinnati Saturday. Mr. McLean and family will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Fabb over Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Parrett and Mrs. Spragg the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Glascock, Mr. Spragg joining them Sunday.

Mr. Otto Coll is erecting a handsome new home on Van Deman avenue, in Millwood, and will move from his farm on the Plymouth pike as soon as it is completed.

Miss Jessie Scovil, who has been the guest of Mrs. Wm. Jefferson in Bloomingburg this week, returned to her home in Circleville Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harris of Walton, Florida, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Harper.

The Automatic Telephones

will go into service on next Monday night, November the 15th.

The work of installing the automatic central office equipment and telephones is completed and are being tested, and will be ready for service Monday night.

This change to Automatic service marks a great change of the local plant of The Ohio State Telephone Company, as this is the latest improved equipment to be put into service.

Subscribers who have at their telephones, a small tag tied to the wires connecting the old and the new telephones together, will cut these wires as the instructions on the card direct, before retiring, and their Automatic phones will be in service Tuesday morning. If this is not done your telephone will not be working until a workman comes to clear the line.

The business men will please cut the wires as the card directs, before closing your stores and offices and Automatic service will be awaiting you in the morning.

Rural, as well as city phones, will go into service at the same time.

Read carefully the directions, given in the directory, for operating the telephones.

Do not try to use your old phone on next Tuesday morning, but use the Automatic only.

Automatic telephone service is the best on earth, and to secure the best Automatic service, read and follow the directions carefully.

ALLEGED CORN THIEVES ARE NABBED TODAY

Sheriff Jones, armed with warrants for the arrest of Clark Marchant and Hector Harris, both colored and both residing in Jeffersonville, went to the James Miller farm near Jeffersonville, Saturday morning, placed the two men under arrest and brought them to the county jail.

The men were arrested in the field, and the complaint was made against them by James Miller, for whom they were working.

It is claimed the fellows repeatedly carried corn off of the Miller farm no less than six times being mentioned in the affidavit.

The men will face Judge Craig within the next day or two.

SERB ARMY NOT CUT OFF

Now Occupying Strong Defensive Positions and Giving Battle to the Invaders—Russians Report Important Gains On the Eastern Front—Artillery Bombardment in the Western Zone of War.

London, Nov. 13.—A dispatch from Athens states that the continued landing of British and French troops at Salonica is causing some uneasiness to Bulgaria and Turkey, and that the ministers of these two powers again protested to the Greek government, which took formal notice of their protest. Italy also has decided to intervene in her allies' behalf.

Teutons and Bulgarians are moving slowly in their efforts to cut off or annihilate the Serbian army. These efforts, however, are growing more difficult as the Serbians now have occupied, according to their official report, defensive positions to the south and east of Kralievo and east of Ivaglitza, and on the eastern front on the left bank of the southern Morava, where heavy fighting is in progress.

CARRANZA'S POPULARITY INCREASES

Washington, Nov. 13.—Reports reaching the state department from Piedras Negras said people arriving there from the interior of Mexico brought word of greatly improved conditions following the recognition of the Carranza de facto government. "The recognition of General Carranza," said the report, "seems to have changed the minds of many revolutionists, who now desire to settle down in peace and devote their time to rebuilding the war torn republic."

O. L. Wise, who has lived in Mexico for twenty-one years, called at the state department and discussed Mexican conditions with officials, speaking enthusiastically of the work of restoration now going on. "People in Mexico City," he said, "used to have a hatred for General Carranza, but now he is very popular. General Pablo Conzales, the military governor at the capital, has brought about wonders in the city and the people have confidence in him."

BRISTOW'S VIEWS

Philadelphia, Nov. 13.—The Republican party will again go down to defeat in the presidential campaign of 1916 unless it has a thorough house cleaning and separates itself from the forces of special privilege, according to former United States Senator Joseph D. Bristow of Kansas. Bristow censured President Wilson's program for preparedness and stated that the middle west was solid against the expenditure of large sums for defense at this time.

REPUBLICANS LAND

Columbus, Nov. 13.—H. B. Galbraith, Progressive, liquor license commissioner of Jefferson county, has been replaced by Herbert W. Nichols, Republican, of Steubenville. Rollie A. Perry of Plain City was appointed assistant state fire marshal at a salary of $1,200 a year to succeed P. R. Bell of Circleville. G. A. Marquart, Columbus; W. T. G. Snyder, Bellefontaine, and J. W. Makley, St. Marys, were appointed to positions in the department of public works.

FIST FIGHT ENDS YOUNGSTER'S LIFE

Newport, R. I., Nov. 13.—Chester M. Stone, a young hospital apprentice at the naval training station, is dead at that place after engaging in a fist fight with one of his companions. The officials at the station state that the autopsy showed that Stone had a weak heart and that death may have been due to excitement. Stone was eighteen years of age and enlisted from Louisville, Ky.

CHAMPION COW OF THE WORLD

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 13.—The world's championship for the production of butter fat by a single cow in a year has been won by Duchess Skylark Ormsby, a Holstein-Friesian, according to an announcement made here. The cow produced 1,205.691 pounds of butter fat, gave 27,161.7 pounds of milk in the year; gave 558.1 pounds of milk and 34.36 pounds of butter in seven days; maintained an average butter fat record of 4.32 per cent. Ate less than twenty pounds of grain a day; consumed only grains within practical reach of every dairyman, and remained in perfect health.

WOMAN TELLS STRANGESTORY

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 13.—After a wild ride in an automobile, clad only in a bathrobe, Mrs. John H. Quilhot, aged fifty, wife of the former South Bend vice investigator, escaped from what is known as "the mystery house" in Battle Creek, Mich., and is in this city prepared to bring court action to recover $100,000 worth of property transferred to her husband, she claims, shortly after her marriage. Quilhot is fifty-five years old. Mrs. Quilhot told a story of imprisonment in a private residence in Battle Creek for the past two months. One bathrobe, one house slipper and a blanket has been the extent of her wardrobe. Watched day and night by detectives, she has been inhumanly treated, according to her story, by a young girl, who Mrs. Quilhot claims to be the daughter of Mrs. Mary Blackburn, the woman who sued Quilhot for $10,000 heart balm for alleged breach of promise.

T. R.'S COUSIN ASKS DIVORCE

New York, Nov. 13.—John Ellis Roosevelt, wealthy first cousin of Theodore Roosevelt, has countered his wife's suit for separation with a petition for annulment of marriage filed secretly in the Suffolk county (L. I.) court. Roosevelt's attorney asked Justice Giegerich to stay the separation suit on the ground that the husband was seeking an annulment in the county in which he lives. Mrs. Roosevelt charged cruelty in her separation petition.

MAKES REQUEST TO INVADE U. S.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The Carranza agency today presented to the state department a request for permission for transportation of 500 former Villa troops through Agua Prieta to Piedras Negras, through United States territory, who are said to have deserted from Villa forces in northern Sonora and surrendered to General Calles, the Carranza commander at Agua Prieta. The Carranzistas are offering transportation to their homes to all Villista soldiers, and it is in fulfillment of this offer that it is seeking this permission. The agency pays the expenses of transportation and of such military and immigration guards as may be necessary.

RESIGNS SEAT IN CABINET

WINSTON CHURCHILL
WILL GO TO FRONT

Announces His Retirement From
British Cabinet.

London, Nov. 13.—Winston Spencer Churchill, former first lord of the admiralty and more recently chancellor of Lancaster, has resigned from the cabinet, according to an official announcement. Churchill was held responsible by the British public for the disastrous attempt by the British fleet, unsupported by troops, to force a passage through the Dardanelles.

Mr. Churchill announced that he "will go to the front." Mr. Churchill, in his letter of resignation, explains that he agrees in the formation of a small war council and appreciates the intention which Premier Asquith expressed to include him among its members. He foresaw the difficulties that the premier would have to face in its composition, he says, and he makes no complaint because the scheme was changed, but with that change his work in the government naturally closed.

FIND FUSE IN SUGAR CARGO

Halifax, Nov. 13.—Stevedores found among bags of sugar which they were removing from the steamer Rio Lages what is supposed to be a piece of a time fuse. The Rio Lages arrived here on Nov. 5 with her cargo of sugar on fire, much of it being destroyed. She was bound for New York from Queenstown.

FUGITIVE TAKEN AFTER 17 YEARS

Columbus, Nov. 13.—Sheriff Charles J. Resch is bringing back to Columbus from Jacksonville, Ill., William Shaw, forty-nine, who, because of a restless conscience, surrendered to the police of that city, confessing that he set fire to the $7,000 grand stand at the old Westerville fair grounds in 1908. He said he was paid for the job and implicated a man now engaged in business in Columbus.

GRANTED NEW TRIAL

Bowling Green, O., Nov. 13.—Judge McClelland granted John Henry Willey, twenty-six, a new trial. He was tried on a charge of murder in the second degree for the alleged killing of Mrs. Joel Kimble, sixty-eight, at her home near Bradner, but the jury returned a verdict of assault and battery against the defendant. The court ruled that Willey was either guilty of homicide or should have been acquitted.

EMBARGO ON FOOD IS MADE COMPLETE

London, Nov. 13.—Beginning Nov. 15 butter will be added to the list of articles whose exportation is forbidden by the Swedish government. This will make the embargo on the export of foodstuffs virtually complete.

GOT THE GOODS ON ZEELANDIA CLAIM BRITISH

Washington, Nov. 13.—The steamship Zeelandia, which flies the American flag, was lying well outside the territorial waters of Mexico when searched by a party from a British cruiser off the port of Progreso, Mexico, according to the British embassy. This information was communicated to the state department by the embassy. According to the embassy not a scrap of paper was found on the Zeelandia to prove her identity. Though flying the American flag, it is said she had no papers on board to show that she was entitled to fly it, nor anything to show whence she had sailed or whither she was bound. The state department expects to receive advice of its own from Progreso in a day or two, and if these conform with the embassy report there will be no protest of violation of Mexican neutrality. The British sea patrols will watch the movement of the Zeelandia and seize her at the first sign of unneutral intentions.

SIMON'S JOKE MADE A HIT WITH MOSE

WOULD HALT ALL ARMS SHIPMENTS

Importers Plan Measures of Retaliation.

CARGOES HELD IN EUROPE

American Importers Would Impress Upon Great Britain the Wisdom of Letting American-Owned Goods Come Through the Blockade—First Step Will Be an Appeal to Congress.

New York, Nov. 13.—American importers are planning measures of retaliation which they hope will impress upon Great Britain the wisdom of letting American-owned goods come through the blockade.

Millions of dollars' worth of toys, china, laces, fine linen, cutlery and other commodities ordered for the Santa Claus trade are being held up by England in neutral ports.

The first step in the campaign, according to ex-Judge Thaddeus Sharratts, counsel to the American Importers' association, will be a demand that congress either prohibit the exportation of arms and other war supplies, or of imposing on them a heavy internal revenue tax. It is also likely that congress will be asked to raise the tariff on certain imported articles which come mainly from England, but which can be supplied by this country. Their plans in this direction, the importers are not yet ready to make public.

Mr. Sharratts has made many trips to Washington in behalf of members of the association who have been trying to get the foreign trade advisers of the state department and the British embassy to recommend the issuing of permits by the British foreign office, without which nothing can be moved from the blockaded ports. So slowly have the wheels moved, and so freakishly, that Mr. Sharratts is convinced that Great Britain has acted in bad faith. He has been forced to the conclusion that it is deliberately using its control of the sea to withhold from the United States such merchandise as competes in our market with the products of British factories.

Mr. Sharratts said: "If Earl Grey or Lord Robert Cecil, under secretary of marine, were in earnest in telling parliament that there was no disposition to withhold goods consigned to neutral owners, they wouldn't be making all sorts of fictitious objections and offering frivolous grounds for delay in delivery. Having satisfied itself that Great Britain is not acting in good faith I feel that members of the National Importers' association in the various states will request their senators and representatives to end or tax the exportation of munitions of war."

Two negro bandits shot up Michael Brothers' cafe in Chicago and escaped without booty.

Ernest J. Shipley, fifteen, was killed when he fell down the elevator pit in the Y. M. C. A. building at Dayton.

Guests of the Maplewood hotel, Winsted, Conn.; moved out when a skunk took up his abode in the basement.

Four women battled 600 white-faced hornets in the Collinwood branch library, Cleveland, winning in one hour. The nest was on exhibition.

Miss E. Marie Sinclair went bathless because her Riverside drive (New York) apartment was horribly cold, she testified when the agent brought suit for back rent.

A Nation's Heroes.

Generally the heroes of a nation's history are not those who have benefited mankind, but those who have injured other nations. If we pride ourselves upon the good and not the harm that we have done we should have put Shakespeare on the Nelson monument and given Apsley House to Darwin. But the citizens whom every nation honors most are those who have killed the greatest number of foreigners.—Atlantic.

TRIALS OF A PARSON.

Efforts of Some of His Flock to Keep Him Meek and Humble.

Do not be a parson unless you are blessed with a strong sense of humor and a thick hide, advises an English clergyman in Pearson's Weekly.

I was asked by a friend who had been offered a living near me to go and see the vicarage and church and report. I did so, and the clerk showed me round. As we neared the end he turned to me and said:

"Be you our new parson, sir, if I may make so bold?" I assured him that I was not. "I be main glad to hear that, sir," he said, with relief. "We've always had good uns so far!"

In a scattered parish I called upon an old couple about tea time. "Would you like a cup of tea?" the housewife asked. I confessed that I should like it very much. The dear old soul prepared one and kept apologizing because she had no jam or cake. I assured her that it did not matter in the least. "Well, sir," she said, brightening, "after all, 'tisn't as if you was one of them that feed high. Any one can see that."

One more. A friend of mine had got a job for a man who had been for a long time out of work. I guessed he was getting pretty shabby, so I looked up a suit—we were much of a size—and took it round. The man's wife took it, and I waited in the room, ready to be overwhelmed with thanks. She came back and said: "My husband thanks you kindly, sir, but he don't hold with parson's clothes. But if you've got anything as 'd suit a man he'll have a look at it!"

Cut His Visit Short.

The Duke of Wellington once wrote to Dr. Hutton for information as to the scientific acquirements of a young officer who had been under his instruction. The doctor thought he could not do less than answer the question verbally and made an appointment accordingly.

Directly Wellington saw him he said: "I am obliged to you, doctor, for the trouble you are taking. Is—fit for the post?"

Clearing his throat, Dr. Hutton began: "No man more so, my lord. I can—"

"That's quite sufficient," said Wellington. "I know how valuable your time is. Mine just now is equally so. I will not detain you any longer. Good morning!"

To Share a Confidence Binds.

Confidence always pleases those who receive it. It is a tribute to their merit, a deposit we commit to their trust, a pledge that gives them a claim upon us, a kind of dependence to which we voluntarily submit.—La Rochefoucauld.

Lewisburg, W. Va., Nov. 13.—Heavy rains extinguished a forest fire that has been raging on Greenbrier mountain. The fire, started by a spark from an engine, destroyed over 10,000 acres of fine timber.

HE GUESSED RIGHT.

Now See if You Can Tell Which Fair One He Selected.

A certain Turk, according to the story, was once married to a veiled lady in white in the presence of the sultan. As soon as the ceremony was concluded the bride mysteriously disappeared.

The groom was led into an adjoining room, where stood twelve ladies all dressed in white, but without veils. "Choose from the twelve," exclaimed the sovereign, "her that is your bride." As the man had never seen her face the command bewildered him.

"If you make a mistake," added his majesty, "your life shall pay the forfeit."

The poor man walked up and down the row of beauties, but saw nothing whatever to aid his choice.

"You have only a minute left," yelled the sultan in anger. "Choose at once!"

Ten of the ladies, the man noticed, gave him nothing else than a stony stare. One of the remaining two frowned, the other smiled. "The frowning one," he thought, "is my bride, for she expresses her displeasure and impatience at my ignorance. 'No,' he said to himself; 'it must be the smiling one, for she desires to invite me to her.'"

After debating the subject in his mind until his time was up he boldly made a selection from the two. He was successful. He had regained his bride. Which was she—the one who frowned or the one who smiled?

PLANT "13" BLOWS UP

By Associated Press.
Wilmington, Delaware, November 13.—No. 13 rolling mill of the Dupont Powder Company's plant at Rising Sun, three miles west of this city, blew up last night.
No one was hurt, all employees being out of the mill at the time.
The cause of the blast is not known. There were about 300 pounds of powder in the mill when the explosion occurred.

FIRENZE IS SUBMARINED

By Associated Press.
Rome, via Paris, November 13.—The Italian steamer Firenze has been sunk by a submarine. Twenty-seven passengers and 96 members of the crew were saved. Six passengers and 15 of the crew are missing.

The Firenze was last reported to have sailed from Genoa on October 12th for Alexandria. The dispatch fails to state whether she was sunk in the Mediterranean.

East Africa's Big Game.

Big game of British East Africa, outside of the three preserves of the colony, is rapidly vanishing and, according to W. T. Hornaday, "is absolutely certain to disappear in about one fourth the time that it took South Africa to accomplish the same result."
Mr. Hornaday points out that the present legal bag limit is ruinously extravagant. For $250 any man may buy the right to kill 300 head of hoofed and horned animals of forty-four species not counting carnivorous animals that may also be killed. Thus the richest big game fauna of any one spot in the world, which nature has been several million years in developing and placing there, seems likely to be wiped out by man within the next fifteen years. A WOMAN'S OPINION.

It Went on Record as a Decision of the Supreme Court.

"All the justices of the supreme court wear gowns of black silk," says Francis E. Leupp in "Walks About Washington." "John Jay, the first chief justice, relieved the somber monotony of his by adding a collar bound with scarlet, but the precedent was not followed. The court has sometimes been styled the most dignified judicial tribunal in the world, and doubtless it deserves the compliment."

"The arguments made before it are confined to calm, unemotional reasoning. The pleaders do not raise their voices or forget their manners or indulge in personalities or oratory while debating, and the opinions of the court are recited with a quietness almost conversational. These opinions are very carefully guarded up to the moment they are read from the bench, but now and then, after a decision has become history, there leaks out an entertaining story of how it came to be rendered."

"Such an instance was in the case of an imported delicacy which might have been classed either as a preparation of fish or as a flavoring sauce. The customs officers had levied duty on it as a sauce, and an importer had appealed. The justices, when they came to compare notes, confessed themselves sorely puzzled, and one of them suggested that since the technical arguments were so well balanced it might be wise to fall back upon common sense. That evening he carried a sample of the disputed substance home to his wife, who was an expert in culinary matters."

"There, my dear," said he, "is a sauce for you to try."

"With one look at the contents of the package, which she evidently recognized, she exclaimed: 'Pshaw! That's no sauce; that's fish. Didn't you know it?'"

Masked Women.

Upper class Swahili women wear curious masks, which are made of leather and beads on a wooden frame. The mask is derived from the traditional usage of Moslem women, who must keep their faces covered in the presence of men. For several centuries Arab traders have frequented this east African coast, and to their influence are due most of the civilized customs found today among the natives of the district. The clothing worn by these prosperous dames is of silk, their shoes are partly of silver, and they wear much silver jewelry. The Moslems in Zanzibar, by the way, are less fanatically strict about religious usages than their brethren in Morocco and Turkey. Wide World Magazine.

"Bob" and "Cob" in Money.

Most people would know what was meant by the term "bob" when speaking of money. But would they be able to say offhand what a "cob" is or was in a similar connection? It was used in polite circles in the seventeenth century, for it occurs in a letter from the Earl of Essex—"So my wife gave her a cob, for which she seemed very thankful"—printed in the new volume of the "Familiar" series, the editor of which gives the information that the cob was a piece of money the value of which varied from 4 shillings to as much as 6 shillings in 1675. GLYCERIN IS PECULIAR.

From a Chemical Standpoint It Has Many Curious Qualities.

One of the great advantages of glycerin in its chemical employment is the fact that it will neither freeze nor evaporate under any ordinary temperature.

No perceptible loss by evaporation has been detected at a temperature less than 200 degrees F., but if heated intensely it decomposes with a smell that few persons find themselves able to endure. It burns with a pale flame, similar to that from alcohol, if heated to about 300 degrees and then ignited. Its nonevaporative qualities make the compound of much use as a vehicle for holding pigments and colors, as in stamping and typewriter ribbons, carbon papers and the like.

If the pure glycerin be exposed for a long time to a freezing temperature it crystallizes with the appearance of sugar candy; but, these crystals being once melted, it is almost an impossibility to get them again into the congealed state. If a little water be added to the glycerin no crystallization will take place, though under a sufficient degree of cold the water will separate and form crystals, amid which the glycerin will remain in its natural state of fluidity.

Gunpowder as Medicine.

The use of gunpowder as medicine was very widely advocated in the eighteenth century and, either taken inwardly or applied externally, was held to be a specific against rheumatism and ague. In the "Complait Housewife or Accomplished Gentlewoman's Companion," a domestic pharmacopoeia, published in 1742, appears the following remedy for rheumatism: "Let the party take of the finest glazed gunpowder as much as a large thimble may hold; wet it in a spoon with milk from the cow and drink a good half pint of warm milk after it; be covered warm in bed and sweat; give it fasting about 7 in the morning and take this nine or ten mornings together."—London Express.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

The Old Time Custom of "Plowing at the Horse's Tail."

Animals seem to have no idea of exercising to keep warm. They just turn their backs to the wind and crouch, but perhaps if one had only a limited amount of fuel it would be better just to keep a spark alive till the snap was over than to burn it all out in a few hours.

The first legislation against cruelty to animals is said to have been an enactment passed in the days of Queen

Elizabeth prohibiting "plowing at the horse's tail," as then practiced in Ireland.

This custom consisted in lashing the plow beam to the horse's tail with a bit of rope and then, while one man held the plow, another walked backward before the animal, guiding it with blows of a stick. It seems as though this plan must have cocked the plow so high into the air that the point would take no hold on the soil. It seems also as if only the most spiritless of equines would have submitted to the treatment, but that it was frequently done the act against it proves. The cruelty of the practice needs no demonstration; it could not have been profitable, but was perhaps preferable to starvation. Whether the English legislators were moved solely by pity of the miserable beast or whether they desired to make a market for English plows and harness does not appear. From "A Farmer's Notebook," by G. E. D. Phelps.

Something Like That.

"Herr Schmidt is so fat that he can't get near enough to his counter to sell goods."

"H'm! Sort of a corporation in restraint of trade."—London Answers.

Russians Forcing Von Hindenburg Back Into Marshes On The Riga Front.

ATTITUDE OF GREECE CAUSES UNREST AMONG THE ALLIES

French and Serbs are Driving Bulgars Before Them and New French and British Troops Arriving at Salonika Hurry at Once to Front—Bulgars Are Greatly Demoralized at Katchanik Pass.

By Associated Press.
London, November 13. — Uneasiness is being shown by the entente allied powers over the attitude of Greece, and this feeling is not likely to be allayed by the latest news that a German military mission has arrived at Athens, by way of Bulgaria and Saloniki.

Official circles in Paris profess to believe there is no possibility of Greece changing her present attitude for one distinctly favorable to the central powers, but rumors of such a step being in contemplation become so persistent that the Greek minister to France felt called upon to visit the foreign office with assurances of Greece's continued adherence to her traditional friendship for France.

News from the eastern front are that Field Marshal von Hindenburg's situation in the Riga district is becoming extremely difficult.

The Russians, continuing their attack west of Lake Babit, are reported to be forcing the Germans into the woods and marshes, which greatly hamper the movements of the Teutons.

Saloniki, Greece, November 11, via Paris, November 13.—The entire Bulgarian force operating west of Vardar have been endangered by simultaneous offensives undertaken by Serbians and French troops, according to advices from the front received here.

The Serbians have resumed the offensive in the Supagora district and are reported to have defeated the Bulgarians at Katchanik pass, inflicting such heavy losses that the invaders were demoralized.

Two French cavalry raids are said to have cleared the ground between Krivolak and Veles.

British and French reinforcements arriving at Saloniki in force and are being immediately sent into Serbia.

ROSS LEADS

By Associated Press.
Columbus, November 13.—Seventeen children of each 1,000 born in Ohio last year were illegitimate according to a detailed report made public today by the state registrar of vital statistics. The average of Ross is the highest of any county in the state.

The total number of births was 101,897 and 1,748 of these were illegitimate, making a rate of 1.71 per cent of all children born.

The number of illegitimate births in Fayette county was six, making the rate 1.65 and Ross county, 30, making the rate 3.76.

MAY IMPRISON INTERNEED MEN

By Associated Press.
Washington, November 13.—Navy officials are so stirred at the escape of a seaman from the interned German cruiser at Norfolk, following closely on the recent escape of a party of non-commissioned officers, that today they asked the State Department to what length the marine guards stationed about the ships would be justified in going to stop the series of unauthorized departures.

The possibility of bringing the Germans ashore and placing them in a guarded camp for safekeeping, was being discussed again.

The State Department will look up precedents, to learn whether the marine guards have a right to shoot if necessary.

ANCONA WAS RIDDLED WITH SUB. SHELLS

By Associated Press.
Paris, November 13.—Mrs. Cecile L. Greil, of New York, a passenger on the Ancona, told a graphic story of the sinking of the vessel to a Havas correspondent.

The Austrian submarine fired on the Ancona while passengers were trying to seek safety in the boats, according to Mrs. Greil.

She escaped only by dropping from the deck into a launch, which was already in the sea. Her maid was killed in their cabin by a gun shot.

Mrs. Greil's story indicates the Ancona was not torpedoed until she had been riddled with shots by the submarine during the night.

Survivors of the sinking declare that a submarine during the night chased the lifeboats and capsized some of them.

A dispatch from Malta says it is learned from a reliable source that one American was drowned or is missing.

The total number of survivors landed on the Tunisian coast is 252.

JULIA NOW IS NERVOUS WRECK

By Associated Press.
Atlanta, Ga., November 13.—Dr. Alleyne Hensley, announced in formal invitations and in society columns of local newspapers as "the fiancé of Miss Julia Crumley," a music teacher of this city, existed only in her imagination.

Not until Miss Crumley had gone to Chicago, identified the body of an unknown man, killed in a railroad accident, and shipped it here as that of Dr. Hensley, did her family and friends suspect anything unusual.

She is being attended by nerve specialists today at the home of her father.

The funeral had been set for Thursday at the undertaker's parlors. Those who saw the body today said it was evidently not that of a man accustomed to the life usually led by a surgeon. An effort was being made to have Chicago authorities take it back.

Two years ago, Miss Crumley was at Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore undergoing an operation. On her return she told her family and friends that Dr. Alleyne Hensley had performed the operation and they had fallen in love with each other.

BRITISH SUB SUNK

By Associated Press.
London, November 13.—An official statement given out today by the Admiralty, announces that the British submarine E-20 has been sunk by the Turks in the Sea of Marmora.

A statement says the submarine, which was on detached service in the Sea of Marmora, had not been communicated with since October 30.

The statement also says the enemy has announced that three of her officers and six men of the crew have been taken prisoners.

A Turkish official statement says the submarine was of the most improved type.

EXPORTS ARE ENORMOUS

By Associated Press.
New York, November 13.—The greatest volume of exports ever reached at a single port, in the history of the United States, left New York harbor during October, mostly for the warring nations of Europe, according to estimates made today by customs officials here.

The total, based on tabulations that are nearly complete, will not fall far short of $175,000,000, or about $7,000,000 a day for every work day of the month.

In September, exports from New York totaled $162,000,000.

BOMB FOUND ON PASSENGER

By Associated Press.
New York, November 13.—Two sticks of tunnelite, a form of dynamite used extensively in coal mines, were found today in the baggage of a man about to board the American line steamer St. Louis, five minutes before she sailed for Liverpool.

The man, who said his name was Abraham Cummings and his nationality British, was arrested and the explosive taken from him.

Detection of the dynamite was brought about by Cummings' strenuous objection to the customary examination of baggage, which all passengers have to undergo.

WILSON AS BEHELD BY DERNBURG

By Associated Press.
Berlin, via London, November 13.—An article written by Dr. Bernard Dernburg, reviewing in general American relations to Germany and Great Britain, occupies the entire first page of the Tageblatt.

It is written in the friendliest spirit toward President Wilson and the United States.

Dr. Dernburg speaks of Germany's "wise giving in" in the Arabic case.

He is inclined to believe that Mr. Wilson would press for a settlement with Great Britain as rapidly as possible; not because this was in accord with American diplomatic traditions but because of the pertinacity of Mr. Wilson's character, with its single-track mind, and because of the imminence of the meeting of Congress and the presidential election.

KAISER IS ON BALKAN FRONT

By Associated Press.
London, November 13.—Emperor William has begun a tour of the Balkan front, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to London, having passed through Orsovo, Hungary, Thursday, on his way to Sofia, where he will visit King Ferdinand, going thence to inspect Field Marshal von Mackensen's armies in Serbia and afterward to Constantinople.

FEW MINERS NOT EMPLOYED

By Associated Press.

SIXTY THOUSAND WATCHING GAME

By Associated Press.
Yale Bowl, New Haven, Conn., November 13.—Sixty thousand persons gathered here this afternoon to witness the annual football game between Yale and Princeton.

The playing field was dry and fast. At the end of the first period neither team had scored.

Shortly after the second period began, Guernsey, of Yale, kicked a goal from field, making the score Yale 3, Princeton 0. Later Princeton scored a touchdown and kicked a goal.

Yale made another goal, and at the end of the second period the score was Princeton 7, Yale 6.

LAKE BOAT GOES DOWN

By Associated Press.
Erie, Pa., November 13.—The freighter P. D. Armour, of the Boreland-Cornelius Line, from Cleveland to Buffalo with coal, struck on a shoal in Lake Erie off Waldermere, four miles west of here, last night, and after being grounded for hours, by a heavy sea, sank this morning.

Part of the crew was taken off early in the day, but the captain and three other men stayed on the boat until 9 o'clock, when they were rescued with difficulty by a life-saving crew.

First reports that a tug of Ashtabula, towing the Armour, and another tug had been sunk were later disproved.

Columbus, Nov. 13.—In the big counties the drys spent the following sums in fighting for statewide prohibition: Hamilton, $11,092; Cuyahoga, $10,006; Franklin, $11,000; Lucas, $12,233; Montgomery, $10,441; Summit, $3,324. Wet interests of Ohio spent $362,000 fighting statewide prohibition, according to Graham P. Hunt, wet manager.

The Anti-Saloon league reported receipts and expenses totaling $52,629.56, and a debt of $9,417.56. This represents the organization's expense for the entire year. It is anticipated that county organizations spent more than $125,000. Of the $32,887.83 received by the Constitutional Stability league, which backed the stability amendment, $29,000 came from the Ohio Home Rule association.

NEW AUTOMATIC WILL BE CONNECTED MONDAY NIGHT

"Cut-over" Will Take Place Late Monday Night and New System, Representing Very Latest Achievement in the Telephone World, Will Be in Use Thereafter—First System of Kind in the World.

All is now in readiness for the long heralded change from the present antiquated system of the local branch of the Ohio State Telephone Company to the new automatic system which represents the very latest in telephonic achievement, and is the first plant in the world where city phones and rural lines have been connected so that they work perfectly under the automatic system.

The company has just made announcement that the cut-over to the new system will be made Monday night of next week, and their announcement elsewhere in this issue explains what the telephone subscriber must do to aid in the work.

The actual change from the ancient to the most modern exchange in existence will require about 30 minutes, although it will be necessary to keep a force of men employed throughout the night. The work of changing from the old to the new will be taken up sometime after nine o'clock Monday night, and before midnight the new automatic will be in use.

The present perfection of the automatic is the result of 22 years constant endeavor on the part of the most gifted telephone men, the first automatic, very crude, being invented and exhibited at the World's Fair in Chicago, in 1893.

The automatic was invented by an undertaker by the name of Strowger, who became disgusted at the service obtained through using the old phone, and set to work to eliminate "central" who had "sassed back" at him.

A. E. Keith later perfected the automatic, and Mr. Keith is Chief Engineer of the Automatic Electric Company, of Chicago. At the present time the company is installing automatic systems in a number of Ohio towns and cities. The local plant is the first including rural lines.

It is interesting to know that W. T. Powell, formerly of New Vienna, Ohio, who is with the Automatic Company in the capacity of Experimental Engineer and was in this city testing out the system this week, is the inventor of one of the most important switches making possible the union of the city and rural lines. He invented the Party Line Connector switch.

The new system is really automatic in every way possible, even to an automatic trouble detector.

The only operators necessary are the information clerk and two persons on the toll board.

The old system was operated by means of local dry cell batteries, but the new system will obtain its "juice" from a dynamo at the central office.

For months a number of workmen have been working overtime installing the plant, and when it is known that the plant is composed of hundreds of thousands of parts. The local system has been installed at a cost of approximately $90,000.

For months patrons of the company have waited patiently regardless of the annoyance necessitated by the radical changes made, and are now looking forward to service unsurpassable.

ANTICIPATE IMPORTANT DISCOVERY

Columbus, Nov. 13.—Ellis M. Black, twenty-four, working in the laboratories of the Ohio State university, is believed to be on the brink of a discovery which may revolutionize present theories of human life. Black claims he has discovered a hitherto unknown substance, found in practically all animal and human foods, with which the growth and development of animals can absolutely be controlled. Fed to young animals, Black's mysterious element may cause them to grow twice or three times as fast as a normally fed animal. Deprived of it an animal dies. Deformed and stunted animals furnished with it as a food in varying doses reach full growth, although their period of youthful growth may have elapsed long before. Black's unusual discovery led many to ask the questions: "What will it do for human beings? Can it lengthen the life of man or woman?"

The "Cookie" Baker Man

Out in Wisconsin state there is a man who has made many of the good housewives jealous because of his extraordinary talent as a "cookie" baker.

This remarkable man has succeeded, according to reports which come from the Badger state, in designing and constructing a cookie which equals the wonderful cookie of memory that "mother used to bake."

At the Windsor fall festival this Dane County, Wisconsin, thresher carried off the first prize on devil's food cake and on coconut cookies, another on baking powder biscuits and a second on lemon pies and that too after spirited competition with some of the best cooks among the gentler sex in all that county.

What an ideal husband this Dane county man would make for some of the girls in the east who can cook successfully nothing save a soft boiled egg.

What perfect peace would reign over him and his household with the original grumbler over cooking always unable to find fault with the creations of the kitchen.

How happy the children of such a man would be with cookies, pies and cakes in numberless plenty and in excellence the equal to any that the fancy of father and mother might call forth in comparison.

Good cookies, good pies and good cakes—good beyond even those of childhood days can do much to keep a family in good humor.

The Arab Worders Why

The spread of the European war through the Balkan states and into Asia Minor is thought compelling.

Even now in Mesopotamia, that part of Turkey in Asia which lies in the valley between the Tigris and the Euphrates rivers is becoming in a measure a part of the theater of war. Turkish, British and Russian forces are now maneuvering, the first for defensive position and the last two mentioned to make a junction with their allies—the one striving to prevent that junction which has for its object the relief of Serbia.

While the actual heavy fighting is still confined to Europe proper, hostile armies are hurriedly massing and marching for position across the historic plains of Asia where warlike men in ancient times strove for the mastery with battle axes, spears, bows and arrows and battering rams.

Six thousands years and more ago men fought and died on the plains of Mesopotamia. Cities and settlements abounded and then as now only the leaders knew the cause of war. The dark eyed, swarthy skinned, white turbaned Arab hosts of Asia Minor watch in wonder the Caucasian "tribes" struggling to attain supremacy by force—struggling in order that might may triumph. They know nothing of the cause of it all. Neither do the soldiers who march and counter march on the blistering sands under the killing rays of a torrid sun.

The cause of war is the same now as it was when Alexander led his hosts.

The Arab in Asia Minor today will search in vain for a new cause of war underlying the struggles between the European armies. Christian nations will be unable to differentiate that cause from the cause which carried tribes of men in ancient times to war and to death and destruction.

Special Elections Expense

It is perhaps of more than passing interest to the people, of Ohio to note that almost one million dollars was spent in campaign and election expenses on five of the special questions submitted at the election on November second.

It will be remembered that there were six special questions of state wide scope, submitted—four proposals to amend the constitution and two referendum elections on acts of the last general assembly.

One of the special matters submitted caused the expenditure of no money at all in the way of campaign expenses by the voters. That one expense free contest was the one on the proposal to amend the constitution to provide for tax exemption of state and municipal bonds.

The liberal forces were the heaviest spenders of money while the opponents of the McDermott liquor license act returned the smallest expense account.

With an expenditure of only two hundred and seventy-five dollars the opponents of the act had the satisfaction of seeing it repudiated by the voters of the state by a majority of considerably over one hundred thousand votes.

Of course the heavy expense accounts filed and the immense grand total of cost will be urged by the opponents of the initiative and referendum as a reason why such power should be taken from the people or its availability curtailed.

It will be interesting to note too that all these objections and the great solicitude for the people's pocket book will come from those who have a special interest in not allowing the people too much power. It is safe to assert that there will be little objection by the people generally.

In passing too it should be observed that practically all of the cost of the elections fell upon those specially interested and the cost to the people generally was infinitesimal—only the cost of printing extra ballots.

Poetry For Today

"SAGES NOT REALLY WISE."
Sages are not really wise
Till they read in Folly's eyes
Lore that puts to route their rules,
Wisdom that escapes the schools.

Tell me, Sages, what love is!
Silent?—But what fool would miss
Kiss or laughter, glance or sigh,
Waiting for your slow reply?

Sages, tell me, what is life?
While your prate of "joy" and
"strife,"
Mumble, definitions give,
Fools like me rejoice to live!

While you labor, dig and seek,
Dull of eye and gray of cheek;
While you study, delve, explain,
Define, examine, think, refrain.

Ponder on the meaning of
Life and Death and Joy and Love,
Laws discover, reasons frame,
We fools are playing at the game!

Seers and Sages are not wise,
Lacking the wisdom to revise
All they've learned and taught in schools
By the laughter of us fools.

Luke McLuke Says

The man who is always bragging about his own achievements wouldn't be such an infernal pest if he was bragging about ours.

No man ever went home with a black eye because he let the other man do all the talking.

When you hear some girls trying to play the piano you realize how true it is that a little learning is a dangerous thing.

The trouble with the optimist who is always broke because he says, "Oh, well, you can't take it with you when you die," is that he is always trying to relieve you of your burden of small change so that you will be light enough to fly in case anything happened to you.

Every now and then you see a widow who acts as if she was too bashful to walk on the same side of the street with a man.

No married man can brag that he has never made a mistake. Even if he did get the right woman he often has to hook her gowns up the back.

Have you ever noticed how much noise the other fellow makes without saying anything? Well, do you need any stronger argument to make you keep your mouth shut?

A man can get 400 love letters from her before he marries her, but he never discovers that she doesn't know how to spell until after he has been married for awhile.

When a man is alive his wife thinks that he is so insignificant that she is surprised that a fly doesn't step on him and crush him. But when he dies she gets the idea that he was so important that she has to go into debt for five years to see that he gets the biggest funeral in town.

One day, just after dinner time, the chief surgeon entered Mrs. McKay's ward, accompanied by a stranger. The man had the appearance of a student. His head was bent and his brows were drawn together, with two deep lines between them, as if he had spent long, thoughtful hours at his desk, and his eyes, the color of blue steel, swept the ward with a keen glance that seemed to take in everything. His grizzled beard showed that he was no longer young, but his step and bearing were elastic and vigorous.

"Dr. Janeway is from Louisiana," explained the chief as he introduced the stranger. "He had to abandon a large sugar plantation there when the war broke out because of his loyalty. He was a surgeon in the Crimean war and so is interested in seeing how we do things here."

The stranger chatted gently with the nurses and the surgeon, discussed their operating facilities, compared them with those of the Crimea, questioned them about the rations of the prisoners and accepted a steaming cup of hot soup from the nurse.

The prisoners were watching and listening to all that passed, in strong contrast to the sullen indifference they had shown before. One young Virginian, tall and muscular, looked as if he were about to spring from his cot.

"That boy looks like he came from near my place," observed the southern Unionist. "May I speak to him?"

"Yes, doctor; you may talk to any of them."

With a curiously quick and noiseless step the visitor reached the bed and conversed for a moment in tones that were inaudible to all but the young soldier. He returned in a moment.

"I was mistaken. A chance resemblance deceived me. The man says he is 'hankering for a drink,' nurse. I told him I would ask you for it."

The wounded man drank the water, stretched out on his side and appeared to sleep, while the two surgeons went on to another ward and presently left the building. Mounting his horse, Dr. Janeway bade a cordial goodbye to the chief, bowed with deep respect to the two women and rode slowly out of the hospital grounds.

The prisoners were in better spirits the next morning. A laugh passed from time to time. It was almost as if some excellent joke unknown to their attendants had raised their courage.

"Did you know the gentleman who was here yesterday?" Mrs. McKay asked the boy soldier. The lad grinned up at her and replied:

"Yes, ma'am."

"You did? Who was he?"

"It was Stonewall Jackson, ma'am."

The nurse stared, then she said:

"You're making fun of me, Pryor. General Jackson here in the midst of our armies!"

"It wouldn't be the first time," retorted the boy, nettled by her unbelief. "More than once, when he hadn't just the scout he wanted at hand, he has gone on his own errands."

"But what if he should be recognized?"

"Who's to recognize him? None of your folks, for those who would know him are fighting, not nursing the sick. And none of ours, for they wouldn't tell if they saw him. Reason he spoke to me yesterday was 'cause I was showing too much interest. I'm one of his 'foot cavalry,' ma'am. He wanted to know just how we was bein' treated, and so he came to see."

"We try to do the best we can for you, Pryor."

"Yes, ma'am. I told him so. We've been treated a heap better than we expected to be. But it's tough to be a prisoner, you know. And that was Stonewall Jackson."—Youth's Companion.

HIS HOSPITAL VISIT

The Stranger Who Inspected the Federal Quarters.

HE CHEERED A FEW PATIENTS

But the Secret of the Unknown Doctor's Influence Did Not Become Apparent Until the Next Day and After He Had Taken His Departure.

It was in the spring of 1862, when Stonewall Jackson, marching down the Shenandoah valley, had won a brilliant victory over General Banks, whom he drove north until the friendly Potomac interposed its screen and he found safety and care for his sick and wounded in the hospitals of Frederick.

A new nurse had been assigned to one of the hospitals the day before the battle—a Massachusetts woman named Charlotte McKay, widowed and made childless within a single year. The patients she had under her care were mostly Federals of course, but there was a good sprinkling of wounded Confederates who were prisoners of war.

One day, just after dinner time, the chief surgeon entered Mrs. McKay's ward, accompanied by a stranger. The man had the appearance of a student. His head was bent and his brows were drawn together, with two deep lines between them, as if he had spent long, thoughtful hours at his desk, and his eyes, the color of blue steel, swept the ward with a keen glance that seemed to take in everything. His grizzled beard showed that he was no longer young, but his step and bearing were elastic and vigorous.

Machine Guns.
Machine guns are really rifles with a mechanical feed, which supplies them rapidly with cartridges. In all modern patterns they are automatic in action. The gas produced by the explosion or shock of the recoil opens the breech, ejects the spent cartridge, loads the rifle, closes the breech and fires the charge. These complicated operations are carried out with extraordinary speed. To give an example: The Maxim can fire at least 450 rounds a minute, or more than seven shots per second, and in exceptionally good order and cleverly operated can discharge 600 rounds a minute.—London Tit-Bits.

The River Tigris.
The river Tigris appears in the book of Genesis as Hiddekel, one of the four "heads" into which the river of Eden was parted. The name by which we know it does not exactly "mean" tiger, for the correct way of putting it is that both "tiger" and "Tigris" mean in Persian swift as an arrow. "Euphrates" is a Greek version of the Persian Hurat, which signifies "the good abounding" and represents the old Asiatic Burat or Purat, akin to our verb "pour."

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove it

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system.

They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or disagreeable effects of any kind.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

253 HEAD OF HORSES NOW CONSIGNEE TO FALL SALE

Semi-Annual Sale of Horses
Opens November 17 With Many
Well Known Blue Bloods Included in the List—Agents of
Uncle Sam and Warring Nations Will Be Present After
Suitable Animals.

Starting Wednesday, November 17 and continuing three days, the horse will be on the Washington C. H. stage, drawing attendances from all of the country, many visitors already asking for reservations at local hotels.

The attraction to horsemen and breeders of the country will be the Big Fall Sale, which will be held in the sale pavilion. Yesterday the speedway in the pavilion was placed in excellent condition, while horses are arriving in large numbers, so that tomorrow and up to the time of the sale visitors and local horse enthusiasts will gather to watch high-bred trotters and pacers step up and down the speedway, with prospective buyers taking notes.

A total of 253 horses have been listed to be sold during the three days, and while the number does not compare with Spring sales, yet in quality and variety it equals the best collection ever offered to the buying public.

While every department of the sale has its full quota of horse stock yet the best feature will be several famous trotters and pacers.

The real star of the entire sale is the chestnut trotting gelding Pittsburg 2:14½ consigned by P. C. Wy-song, of Spring Valley, Ohio. This trotter started the past season a green animal and out of six starts won five firsts. Horsemen say he is one of the best trotting prospects in the country and it is predicted that he will bring a price well up in four figures.

The largest consignments come from Spruce Lawn Farm, Springfield, Ohio, and Cliff Todd, Montgomery, Ohio. The former have consigned ten head which consists of high-bred youngsters, while Todd is sending the same number, with the noted pacer Martin C. 2:09½ as the headliner. Martin C. has raced at the local fair and as he has a public trial of 2:04½ he should sell for a high price.

Another prominent consignment is the dispersal of Frank M. Fernau, of Bainbridge, Ohio, which consists of Rose Bond (4) 2:22½, who was a winner at the local fair the past summer, and Ormande Rose and Robert Ormande both of which have demonstrated their ability as classy performers.

On the first day of the sale over one hundred head of horses of all kinds are listed, including several suitable for army purposes. Representatives of foreign governments will be in attendance. According to a telegram received by Charles Allen manager of the sale, from the Quartermaster at the United States Remount Depot, Front Royal, Va., two representatives of that department will arrive in this city tomorrow and remain until the closing of the sale. It is said that they will purchase horses for service in the United States army.

The sale will start at 10 o'clock each morning and it is possible that night sessions will take place on Wednesday and Thursday. Col. John Pease, of Vandalia, will again be the auctioneer.

CITY SOLONS HOLD CAUCUS ON LIGHTING

A secret conference was held by councilmen, at the Mayor's office, Friday night, when the city solons were called together at the suggestion of H. Whitford Jones, lighting engineer of Cleveland, who arrived in the city Friday evening.

The councilmen held a lengthy conference with the engineer during which plans for the new lighting system were again discussed and it is said some agreement was reached concerning the proposal.

According to announcement authorized by one or more of the councilmen, if the proposed "white way" is not carried out, 100 watt lamps will be used throughout the city for lighting purposes.

The next meeting of council is Monday night of the coming week. It is announced that at the present time more than two-score of the proposed nitrogen lamps have been installed in the city, supplanting the old lamps.

NEWBY CANDIDATE FOR FOR SUPREME JUDGE

Judge Cyrus Newby, of Hillsboro, is a candidate for the position of Supreme Judge, and his friends are now boosting for him.

In a recent issue the Georgetown Gazette says the following concerning Judge Newby's qualifications for the position he seeks:

"His judicial temperament and long and distinguished service on the bench have given him the reputation of being one of the ablest judges in Ohio. Besides being a great judge, he is a splendid gentleman and measured by every standard his elevation to the Supreme Court bench would reflect credit on the electors of our state and add to the dignity and wisdom of a tribunal where some of Ohio's ablest men have sat in judgment.

The Judge's many friends in this part of the state irrespective of their political affiliations are very anxious to see him make the race and if he does so it is safe to predict that the counties in southwestern Ohio will give him such support as few men could secure anywhere."

WALKER AGAIN IN THE TOILS FOR FORGERY

Earl Walker, recently discharged in Ross County where he was arraigned for passing a forged check, which bore the signature of John E. Free, was re-arrested as he stepped from the C. H. & D. train Friday afternoon upon his return to this city.

This time he faces a direct charge of uttering a forged check. The complaint was filed before Justice Craig by Mr. Free, and Sheriff Jones made the arrest.

WALKER IS RELEASED FOR LACK OF EVIDENCE

Earl Walker, Good Hope youth recently arrested for passing a forged check, has been released from custody, the complaining witness failing to establish a case against the young man, who was not bound over as previously stated.

Regarding the Walker case, the Chillicothe News says in part:

"Walker was represented by Walter W. Boulker and City Solicitor Garrett S. Claypool represented the state. Before Walker was arraigned, it was discovered that there was no case against him and he was dismissed. The costs, $11.45 were paid by the complaining witness.

"Walker's counsel in discussing the case said that his client would have been able to show that on the day he is alleged to have passed the check at Bainbridge, he was not in that village, but visiting relatives in Pickaway county. Persons with whom he visited and who were on the train with him were ready to testify as witnesses.

"He could not even be identified as the person who passed the check. In face of those facts there seems to be no doubt but that the check-passer is still at large and that Walker is innocent of the charge of uttering a forged check.

"Attorney Boulker was inclined to believe that the only thing that directed suspicion against Walker was because his name and endorsement were on the check. On the other hand, the writing on the check is said to have been singularly similar to Walker's."

PLANS DISCUSSED FOR IMPROVEMENT

The regular monthly session of the teachers and official board of the Grace M. E. Sunday school, was held at the church Friday night and following a carefully prepared supper which all greatly enjoyed, plans for adding to the interest of the Sunday school were discussed at length.

Superintendent Mrs. Eva J. Penn presided over the meeting and the various members took part in the plans for improving the school, and committees were named to make recommendations for certain changes contemplated.

SUSPECTED BURGLAR SAID TO BE HERE

Sheriff Ben South of Wilmington is busy rounding up a gang of burglars who have been at work in that city, and so far has two negroes under lock and key, and it is claimed they have admitted their part in the affair and involved a man from this county, who will probably be arrested and taken to Wilmington for trial.

The latest stunt of the burglars was the robbing of a tailor shop in Wilmington. The two men were arrested near New Vienna.

RUIN IN A CHINA SHOP.

A Crash That Spelled Agony For the London Curio Dealer.

George Robey, the comedian, frequently drops in for a chat with a dealer in London. In the outer room are vases and jars, cups, groups and sets of pieces valued at anything from 50 to 500 guineas. Inside is the proprietor's private apartment. To reach him you gingerly pick your way through the thousands of pounds' worth of valuable china.

"One day not long ago," Robey says, "I had been chatting within, and a friend was waiting for me in the outer room. As I bade the dealer 'Good morning' and was about to pass into the outer room there came a dreadful crashing of broken china. My friend turned upon me an eye glassy with anguish. Never shall I forget the proprietor's expression of supreme horror as he rushed from his sanctum and saw my friend and myself standing amid the debris of broken chinaware which lay strewn around our feet. He was speechless—choking.

"Legal proceedings? Five thousand pounds? In a word, what was the damage, you inquire. Well, I am sorry to have to confess it, for the proprietor was in bed for a week as the result of the shock, but it was a gag prearranged. For my friend, who had brought with him a couple of dozen cheap soup plates, had, at a given signal from me, dropped them in a heap upon the floor."—London Answers.

Might Be Worse.

My hair is falling out a bit. As like as not I'll soon be bald. I must admit—I'd rather not.

To grow bald makes one feel quite sad. But such is life. And I can stand it. I am glad it ain't my wife.

—Kansas City Journal.

Not Greatly Concerned.

"This is the Venus de Milo. There is much interest about her missing arms. Everybody wonders what she would be doing with her arms if she had them."

"I don't suppose she would be trying to put 'em around me," observed the ugly man of the crowd. And he passed on.—Pittsburgh Post.

Frenchy.

A bold bombardier while in Calais With a pretty French girl got quite pal-lais.

He replied, with a laugh, To his chum's jolly chauch, "I shall tarrair in Calais and marrair."

—London Opinion.

Caught Enough.

Mary—The doctor says this illness of mine is caused by a germ. Agnes—What did he call it? Mary—I don't remember. I caught the disease, but not the name.—Judge.

FLYING FOXES OF INDIA.

During the Day They Sleep In Trees, Hanging Head Downward.

People who have lived in India are familiar with the long strings of flying foxes which can often be seen wending their way in single file from their sleeping places in remote trees to the fruit gardens upon which they prey.

These curious creatures, says a writer in the Wide World Magazine, sometimes measure as much as four feet across the wings and have reddish brown fur and mole colored wings. After their nocturnal depredations they fly away with the dawn to a tree in some isolated place and there rest during the day, hanging head downward from the boughs in the manner of bats, clutching the branch with their feet.

As the flying foxes gather on the tree selected there is a tremendous commotion, for each newcomer is vigorously driven off from one place after another until he eventually manages to secure a perch for himself. Those on the tree meanwhile keep up an incessant wrangling, each endeavoring to secure the highest and best place to rest on. Sometimes many hundreds of these destructive creatures may be seen hanging from the branches of a large tree.

When opportunity offers they are often shot, and some of the natives consider their flesh a delicacy, though it hardly appeals to Europeans.

A Personal Preference.

A well known magazine writer moved not so very long ago from Brooklyn to California. On the day before the family started west he went for a walk through the neighborhood with his four-year-old son.

"I suppose," said the father, "that you'll be sorry to leave all your little chums here?"

The youngster thought he would. At that he did not seem to show much emotion at the prospect of parting from all his friends.

"Which one will you miss the most?" inquired the parent.

The boy was not sure.

"Now," pressed his father, "which little boy of all the little boys you know do you like the best?"

The little chap considered a minute before answering.

"Well," he said at last, "I guess I like myself pretty well!"—Saturday Evening Post.

Uses of Menu Cards.

"It wouldn't take so many menu cards to carry us through at dinner," said the head waiter, "if people didn't scribble so many notes on them and make them unfit for use. Memoranda of all kinds are jotted down on these cards during a meal. Arithmetical puzzles are solved, the particulars of business deals are worked out, financial problems are wrestled with, sonnets are composed, and social engagements are made and broken. The fact is I have seen about everything written on a menu card except a popular novel, and no doubt I've found the plots of some of them."—New York Times.

Fickle.

"Popularity is very fickle," exclaimed the offhand orator.

"What's the trouble?"

"Every time I get a crowd interested in my remarks an automobile tire blows out and the audience rushes off to see what the matter is."—Washington Star

In Social Circles

Miss Faye M. Fisher, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Fisher, and Mr. Wilbur Wilson, son of Mr. Alonzo Wilson, were united in marriage by Rev. Pfaltzgraf at the M. E. parsonage in Good Hope, Thursday evening.

Both young people belong to well known Fayette county families and are unusually popular with a wide circle of friends.

The ceremony was witnessed by the bridegroom's father and family; the bride's brother, Mr. Ray Fisher, and Miss Edith Moore.

Mr. Ray Fisher and Miss Ruth Wilson were the attendants.

The bride was wearing a handsome tailored suit of blue satin finished broad cloth, bodice of blue net over white silk, with smart black velvet hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left on the evening train for Columbus and a short wedding trip. Upon their return they will reside on the Wilson farm where their home is cosily furnished and in readiness.

Mr. Wilson is associated with his father in the management of their large farms on the Martinsburg pike.

Both bride and bridegroom have the best wishes of a host of friends.

Miss Doris Willis entertained at an extremely pretty little dinner Friday evening Misses Ruth Grafton, Helen Baker, Virginia Campbell, Alleen Hess, Jocelyn Bowen. Miss Gretchen Willis assisted.

Yellow chrysanthemums were used in decoration.

Mrs. Willard Everhart enjoyably entertained the Golden Rule Circle Class of Sugar Grove Sunday school Friday afternoon.

After the business session a delicious repast was served.

The Automatic Telephones

will go into service on next Monday night, November the 15th.

The work of installing the automatic central office equipment and telephones is completed and are being tested, and will be ready for service Monday night.

This change to Automatic service marks a great change of the local plant of The Ohio State Telephone Company, as this is the latest improved equipment to be put into service.

Subscribers who have at their telephones, a small tag tied to the wires connecting the old and the new telephones together, will cut these wires as the instructions on the card direct, before retiring, and their Automatic phones will be in service Tuesday morning. If this is not done your telephone will not be working until a workman comes to clear the line.

The business men will please cut the wires as the card directs, before closing your stores and offices and Automatic service will be awaiting you in the morning.

Rural, as well as city phones, will go into service at the same time.

Read carefully the directions, given in the directory, for operating the telephones.

Do not try to use your old phone on next Tuesday morning, but use the Automatic only.

Automatic telephone service is the best on earth, and to secure the best Automatic service, read and follow the directions carefully.

ALLEGED CORN THIEVES ARE NABBED TODAY

Sheriff Jones, armed with warrants for the arrest of Clark Marchant and Hector Harris, both colored and both residing in Jeffersonville, went to the James Miller farm near Jeffersonville, Saturday morning, placed the two men under arrest and brought them to the county jail.

The men were arrested in the field, and the complaint was made against them by James Miller, for whom they were working.

It is claimed the fellows repeatedly carried corn off of the Miller farm no less than six times being mentioned in the affidavit.

The men will face Judge Craig within the next day or two.

SERB ARMY NOT CUT OFF

Now Occupying Strong Defensive Positions and Giving Battle to the Invaders—Russians Report Important Gains On the Eastern Front—Artillery Bombardment in the Western Zone of War.

London, Nov. 13.—A dispatch from Athens states that the continued landing of British and French troops at Salonica is causing some uneasiness to Bulgaria and Turkey, and that the ministers of these two powers again protested to the Greek government, which took formal notice of their protest. Italy also has decided to intervene in her allies' behalf.

Teutons and Bulgarians are moving slowly in their efforts to cut off or annihilate the Serbian army. These efforts, however, are growing more difficult as the Serbians now have occupied, according to their official report, defensive positions to the south and east of Kraljevo and east of Ivagitzitza, and on the eastern front on the left bank of the southern Morava, where heavy fighting is in progress.

FIST FIGHT ENDS YOUNGSTER'S LIFE

Newport, R. I., Nov. 13.—Chester M. Stone, a young hospital apprentice at the naval training station, is dead at that place after engaging in a fist fight with one of his companions. The officials at the station state that the autopsy showed that Stone had a weak heart and that death may have been due to excitement. Stone was eighteen years of age and enlisted from Louisville, Ky.

CHAMPION COW OF THE WORLD

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 13.—The world's championship for the production of butter fat by a single cow in a year has been won by Duchess Skylark Ormsby, a Holstein-Friesian, according to an announcement made here. The cow produced 1,205.091 pounds of butter fat, gave 27,161.7 pounds of milk in the year; gave 558.1 pounds of milk and 34.36 pounds of butter in seven days; maintained an average butter fat record of 4.32 per cent. Ate less than twenty pounds of grain a day; consumed only grains within practical reach of every dairyman, and remained in perfect health.

WOMAN TELLS STRANGESTORY

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 13.—After a wild ride in an automobile, clad only in a bathrobe, Mrs. John H. Quilhot, aged fifty, wife of the former South Bend vice investigator, escaped from what is known as "the mystery house," in Battle Creek, Mich., and is in this city prepared to bring court action to recover $100,000 worth of property transferred to her husband, she claims, shortly after her marriage. Quilhot is fifty-five years old. Mrs. Quilhot told a story of imprisonment in a private residence in Battle Creek for the past two months. One bathrobe, one house slipper and a blanket has been the extent of her wardrobe. Watched day and night by detectives, she has been inhumanly treated, according to her story, by a young girl, who Mrs. Quilhot claims to be the daughter of Mrs. Mary Blackburn, the woman who sued Quilhot for $10,000 heart balm for alleged breach of promise.

T. R.'S COUSIN ASKS DIVORCE

New York, Nov. 13.—John Ellis Roosevelt, wealthy first cousin of Theodore Roosevelt, has countered his wife's suit for separation with a petition for annulment of marriage filed secretly in the Suffolk county (L. I.) court. Roosevelt's attorney asked Justice Giegerich to stay the separation suit on the ground that the husband was seeking an annulment in the county in which he lives. Mrs. Roosevelt charged cruelty in her separation petition.

MAKES REQUEST TO INVADE U. S.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The Carranza agency today presented to the state department a request for permission for transportation of 500 former Villa troops through Agua Prieta to Piedras Negras, through United States territory, who are said to have deserted from Villa forces in northern Sonora and surrendered to General Calles, the Carranza commander at Agua Prieta. The Carranzistas are offering transportation to their homes to all Villista soldiers, and it is in fulfillment of this offer that it is seeking this permission. The agency pays the expenses of transportation and of such military and immigration guards as may be necessary.

WINSTON CHURCHILL
WILL GO TO FRONT

Announces His Retirement From
British Cabinet.

London, Nov. 13.—Winston Spencer Churchill, former first lord of the admiralty and more recently chancellor of Lancaster, has resigned from the cabinet, according to an official announcement. Churchill was held responsible by the British public for the disastrous attempt by the British fleet, unsupported by troops, to force a passage through the Dardanelles.

Mr. Churchill announced that he "will go to the front." Mr. Churchill, in his letter of resignation, explains that he agrees in the formation of a small war council and appreciates the intention which Premier Asquith expressed to include him among its members. He foresaw the difficulties that the premier would have to face in its composition, he says, and he makes no complaint because the scheme was changed, but with that change his work in the government naturally closed.

FIND FUSE IN SUGAR CARGO

Halifax, Nov. 13.—Stevadores found among bags of sugar which they were removing from the steamer Rio Lages what is supposed to be a piece of a time fuse. The Rio Lages arrived here on Nov. 5 with her cargo of sugar on fire, much of it being destroyed. She was bound for New York from Queenstown.

FUGITIVE TAKEN AFTER 17 YEARS

Columbus, Nov. 13.—Sheriff Charles J. Resch is bringing back to Columbus from Jacksonville, Ill., William Shaw, forty-nine, who, because of a restless conscience, surrendered to the police of that city, confessing that he set fire to the $7,000 grand stand at the old Westerville fair grounds in 1908. He said he was paid for the job and implicated a man now engaged in business in Columbus.

GRANTED NEW TRIAL

Bowling Green, O., Nov. 13.—Judge McClelland granted John Henry Willey, twenty-six, a new trial. He was tried on a charge of murder in the second degree for the alleged killing of Mrs. Joel Kimble, sixty-eight, at her home near Bradner, but the jury returned a verdict of assault and battery against the defendant. The court ruled that Willey was either guilty of homicide or should have been acquitted.

EMBARGO ON FOOD IS MADE COMPLETE

CARRANZA'S POPULARITY INCREASES

Washington, Nov. 13.—Reports reaching the state department from Piedras Negras said people arriving there from the interior of Mexico brought word of greatly improved conditions following the recognition of the Carranza de facto government. "The recognition of General Carranza," said the report, "seems to have changed the minds of many revolutionists, who now desire to settle down in peace and devote their time to rebuilding the war torn republic."

O. L. Wise, who has lived in Mexico for twenty-one years, called at the state department and discussed Mexican conditions with officials, speaking enthusiastically of the work of restoration now going on. "People in Mexico City," he said, "used to have a hatred for General Carranza, but now he is very popular. General Pablo

Conzales, the military governor at the capital, has brought about wonders in the city and the people have confidence in him."

BRISTOW'S VIEWS

Philadelphia, Nov. 13.—The Republican party will again go down to defeat in the presidential campaign of 1916 unless it has a thorough house cleaning and separates itself from the forces of special privilege, according to former United States Senator Joseph D. Bristow of Kansas. Bristow censured President Wilson's program for preparedness and stated that the middle west was solid against the expenditure of large sums for defense at this time.

REPUBLICANS LAND

Columbus, Nov. 13.—H. B. Galbraith, Progressive, liquor license commissioner of Jefferson county, has been replaced by Herbert W. Nichols, Republican, of Stenbenville. Rollie A. Perry of Plain City was appointed assistant state fire marshal at a salary of $1,200 a year to succeed P. R. Bell of Circleville. G. A. Marquart, Columbus; W. T. G. Snyder, Bellefontaine, and J. W. Makley, St. Marys, were appointed to positions in the department of public works.

GOT THE GOODS ON ZEELANDIA CLAIM BRITISH

Washington, Nov. 13.—The steamship Zeelandia, which flies the American flag, was lying well outside the territorial waters of Mexico when searched by a party from a British cruiser off the port of Progreso, Mexico, according to the British embassy. This information was communicated to the state department by the embassy. According to the embassy not a scrap of paper was found on the Zeelandia to prove her identity. Though flying the American flag, it is said she had no papers on board to show that she was entitled to fly it, nor anything to show whence she had sailed or whither she was bound. The state department expects to receive advice of its own from Progreso in a day or two, and if these conform with the embassy report there will be no protest of violation of Mexican neutrality. The British sea patrols will watch the movements of the Zeelandia and seize her at the first sign of unneutral intentions.

NEW FRENCH LOAN

Paris, Nov. 13.—Alexander Ribot, minister of finance, introduced a bill in the chamber of deputies authorizing a 5 per cent loan. The new rental, like the old, will be exempt from taxation, the state reserving the right of conversion and redemption after fifteen years.

WOULD HALT ALL ARMS SHIPMENTS

Importers Plan Measures of Retaliation.

CARGOES HELD IN EUROPE

American Importers Would Impress Upon Great Britain the Wisdom of Letting American-Owned Goods Come Through the Blockade—First Step Will Be an Appeal to Congress.

New York, Nov. 13.—American importers are planning measures of retaliation which they hope will impress upon Great Britain the wisdom of letting American-owned goods come through the blockade.

Millions of dollars' worth of toys, china, laces, fine linen, cutlery and other commodities ordered for the Santa Claus trade are being held up by England in neutral ports.

The first step in the campaign, according to ex-Judge Thaddeus Sharratts, counsel to the American Importers' association, will be a demand that congress either prohibit the exportation of arms and other war supplies, or of imposing on them a heavy internal revenue tax. It is also likely that congress will be asked to raise the tariff on certain imported articles which come mainly from England, but which can be supplied by this country. Their plans in this direction, the importers are not yet ready to make public.

Mr. Sharratts has made many trips to Washington in behalf of members of the association who have been trying to get the foreign trade advisers of the state department and the British embassy to recommend the issuing of permits by the British foreign office, without which nothing can be moved from the blockaded ports. So slowly have the wheels moved, and so fearfully, that Mr. Sharratts is convinced that Great Britain has acted in bad faith. He has been forced to the conclusion that it is deliberately using its control of the sea to withhold from the United States such merchandise as competes in our market with the products of British factories.

Mr. Sharratts said: "If Earl Grey or Lord Robert Cecil, under secretary of marine, were in earnest in telling parliament that there was no disposition to withhold goods consigned to neutral owners, they wouldn't be making all sorts of fictitious objections and offering frivolous grounds for delay in delivery. Having satisfied itself that Great Britain is not acting in good faith I feel that members of the National Importers' association in the various states will request their senators and representatives to end or tax the exportation of munitions of war."

A Nation's Heroes.

Generally the heroes of a nation's history are not those who have benefited mankind, but those who have injured other nations. If we pride ourselves upon the good and not the harm that we have done we should have put Shakespeare on the Nelson monument and given Apsley House to Darwin. But the citizens whom every nation honors most are those who have killed the greatest number of foreigners.—Atlantic.

TRIALS OF A PARSON.

Efforts of Some of His Flock to Keep Him Meek and Humble.

Do not be a parson unless you are blessed with a strong sense of humor and a thick hide, advises an English clergyman in Pearson's Weekly.

I was asked by a friend who had been offered a living near me to go and see the vicarage and church and report. I did so, and the clerk showed me round. As we neared the end he turned to me and said:

"Be your own parson, sir. If I may make so bold?" I assured him that I was not. "I be main glad to hear that, sir," he said, with relief. "We've always had good uns so far."

In a scattered parish I called upon an old couple about tea time. "Would you like a cup of tea?" the housewife asked. I confessed that I should like it very much. The dear old soul prepared one and kept apologizing because she had no jam or cake. I assured her that it did not matter in the least. "Well, sir," she said, brightening, "after all, 'tisn't as if you was one of them that feed high. Any one can see that."

One more. A friend of mine had got a job for a man who had been for a long time out of work. I guessed he was getting pretty shabby, so I looked up a suit—we were much of a size—and took it round. The man's wife took it, and I waited in the room, ready to be overwhelmed with thanks. She came back and said: "My 'usband thanks you kindly, sir, but he don't hold with parson's clothes. But if you've got anything as 'd suit a man he'll have a look at it!"

Cut His Visit Short.

The Duke of Wellington once wrote to Dr. Hutton for information as to the scientific acquirements of a young officer who had been under his instruction. The doctor thought he could not do less than answer the question verbally and made an appointment accordingly.

Directly Wellington saw him he said: "I am obliged to you, doctor, for the trouble you are taking. Is — fit for the post?"

Clearing his throat, Dr. Hutton began: "No man more so, my lord. I can—"

"That's quite sufficient," said Wellington. "I know how valuable your time is. Mine just now is equally so. I will not detain you any longer. Good morning."

To Share a Confidence Binds.

Confidence always pleases those who receive it. It is a tribute to their merit, a deposit we commit to their trust, a pledge that gives them a claim upon us, a kind of dependence to which we voluntarily submit.—La Rochefoucauld.

NEGRO LYNCHED

Aberdeen, Miss., Nov. 13.—John Taylor, a negro, charged with having fired at a deputy sheriff who was attempting to arrest another negro, was taken from jail here by a mob of masked men. His body was found swinging from a bridge.

RAIN SAVES FOREST

Lewisburg, W. Va., Nov. 13.—Heavy rains extinguished a forest fire that has been raging on Greenbrier mountain. The fire, started by a spark from an engine, destroyed over 10,000 acres of fine timber.

HE GUESSED RIGHT.

Now See if You Can Tell Which Fair One He Selected.

A certain Turk, according to the story, was once married to a veiled lady in white in the presence of the sultan. As soon as the ceremony was concluded the bride mysteriously disappeared.

The groom was led into an adjoining room, where stood twelve ladies all dressed in white, but without veils. "Choose from the twelve," exclaimed the sovereign, "her that is your bride." As the man had never seen her face the command bewildered him.

"If you make a mistake," added his majesty, "your life shall pay the forfeit."

The poor man walked up and down the row of beauties, but saw nothing whatever to aid his choice.

"You have only a minute left," yelled the sultan in anger. "Choose at once!"

Ten of the ladies, the man noticed, gave him nothing else than a stony stare. One of the remaining two frowned, the other smiled. "The frowning one," he thought, "is my bride, for she expresses her displeasure and impatience at my ignorance. "No," he said to himself; "it must be the smiling one, for she desires to invite me to her."

After debating the subject in his mind until his time was up he boldly made a selection from the two. He was successful. He had regained his bride. Which was she—the one who frowned or the one who smiled?

PLANT "13" BLOWS UP

By Associated Press.
Wilmington, Delaware, November 13.—No. 13 rolling mill of the Dupont Powder Company's plant at Rising Sun, three miles west of this city, blew up last night.

No one was hurt, all employees being out of the mill at the time. The cause of the blast is not known. There were about 300 pounds of powder in the mill when the explosion occurred.

FIRENZE IS SUBMARINED

By Associated Press.
Rome, via Paris, November 13.—The Italian steamer Firenze has been sunk by a submarine. Twenty-seven passengers and 96 members of the crew were saved. Six passengers and 15 of the crew are missing.

The Firenze was last reported to have sailed from Genoa on October 12th for Alexandria. The dispatch fails to state whether she was sunk in the Mediterranean.

East Africa's Big Game.
Big game of British East Africa, outside of the three preserves of the colony, is rapidly vanishing and, according to W. J. Hornaday, "is absolutely certain to disappear in about one-fourth the time that it took South Africa to accomplish the same result." Mr. Hornaday points out that the present legal bag limit is ruinously extravagant. For $250 any man may buy the right to kill 300 head of hoofed and horned animals of forty-four species, not counting carnivorous animals that may also be killed. Thus the richest big game fauna of any one spot in the world, which nature has been several million years in developing and placing there, seems likely to be wiped out by man within the next fifteen years.—Chicago News

A WOMAN'S OPINION.

It Went on Record as a Decision of the Supreme Court.

"All the justices of the supreme court wear gowns of black silk," says Francis E. Leupp in "Walks About Washington." "John Jay, the first chief justice, relieved the somber monotony of his by adding a collar bound with scarlet, but the precedent was not followed. The court has sometimes been styled the most dignified judicial tribunal in the world, and doubtless it deserves the compliment.

"The arguments made before it are confined to calm, unemotional reasoning. The pleaders do not raise their voices or forget their manners or indulge in personalities or oratory while debating, and the opinions of the court are recited with a quietness almost conversational. These opinions are very carefully guarded up to the moment they are read from the bench, but now and then, after a decision has become history, there leaks out an entertaining story of how it came to be rendered.

"Such an instance was in the case of an imported delicacy which might have been classed either as a preparation of fish or as a flavoring sauce. The customs officers had levied duty on it as a sauce, and an importer had appealed. The justices, when they came to compare notes, confessed themselves sorely puzzled, and one of them suggested that since the technical arguments were so well balanced it might be wise to fall back upon common sense. That evening he carried a sample of the disputed substance home to his wife, who was an expert in culinary matters.

"There, my dear," said he, "is a sauce for you to try."

"With one look at the contents of the package, which she evidently recognized, she exclaimed: 'Pshaw! That's no sauce; that's fish. Didn't you know it?'

"The next day the court met again for consultation and on the following Monday handed down a decision overruling the customs officers and sustaining the importer's appeal."

Masked Women.
Upper class Swahili women wear curious masks, which are made of leather and bands on a wooden frame. The mask is derived from the traditional usage of Moslem women, who must keep their faces covered in the presence of men. For several centuries Arab traders have frequented this east African coast, and to their influence are due most of the civilized customs found today among the natives of the district. The clothing worn by these prosperous dames is of silk, their shoes are partly of silver, and they wear much silver jewelry. The Moslems in Zanzibar, by the way, are less fanatically strict about religious usages than their brethren in Morocco and Turkey.—Wide World Magazine.

"Bob" and "Cob" in Money.

Most people would know what was meant by the term "bob" when speaking of money. But would they be able to say offhand what a "cob" is or was in a similar connection? It was used in polite circles in the seventeenth century, for it occurs in a letter from the Earl of Essex—"So my wife gave her a cob, for which she seemed very thankful," printed in the new volume of the "Gleaner" series, the editor of which gives the information that the cob was a piece of money the value of which varied from 4 shillings to as much as 6 shillings in 1675.—London Chronicle.

No Chance to Elope.

Girls in New Guinea have little chance to run away. Their parents force them to sleep in a little house on the top of a branch of a tall tree, then the house is removed and the summer of the parents is not disturbed by tears of an elopement.

GLYCERIN IS PECULIAR.

From a Chemical Standpoint It Has Many Curious Qualities.

One of the great advantages of glycerin in its chemical employment is the fact that it will neither freeze nor evaporate under any ordinary temperature.

No perceptible loss by evaporation has been detected at a temperature less than 200 degrees F., but if heated intensely it decomposes with a smell that few persons find themselves able to endure. It burns with a pale flame, similar to that from alcohol, if heated to about 300 degrees and then ignited. Its nonevaporative qualities make the compound of much use as a vehicle for holding pigments and colors, as in stamping and typewriter ribbons, carbon papers and the like.

If the pure glycerin be exposed for a long time to a freezing temperature it crystallizes with the appearance of sugar candy; but, these crystals being once melted, it is almost an impossibility to get them again into the congealed state. If a little water be added to the glycerin no crystallization will take place, though under a sufficient degree of cold the water will separate and form crystals, amid which the glycerin will remain in its natural state of fluidity.

If suddenly subjected to intense cold pure glycerin will form a gummy mass which cannot be entirely hardened or crystallized. Altogether it is quite a peculiar substance.

Gunpowder as Medicine.

The use of gunpowder as medicine was very widely advocated in the eighteenth century and, either taken inwardly or applied externally, was held to be a specific against rheumatism and ague. In the "Complaisant Housewife or Accomplished Gentlewoman's Companion," a domestic pharmacopoeia, published in 1742, appears the following remedy for rheumatism: "Let the party take of the finest glazed gunpowder as much as a large thimble may hold; wet it in a spoon with milk from the cow and drink a good half pint of warm milk after it; be covered warm in bed and sweat; give it fasting about 7 in the morning and take this nine or ten mornings together."—London Express.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

The Old Time Custom of "Plowing at the Horse's Tail."

Animals seem to have no idea of exercising to keep warm. They just turn their backs to the wind and crouch, but perhaps if one had only a limited amount of fuel it would be better just to keep a spark alive till the snap was over than to burn it all out in a few hours.

The first legislation against cruelty to animals is said to have been an enactment passed in the days of Queen

Elizabeth prohibiting "plowing at the horse's tail," as then practiced in Ireland.

This custom consisted in lashing the plow beam to the horse's tail with a bit of rope and then, while one man held the plow, another walked backward before the animal, guiding it with blows of a stick. It seems as though this plan must have cocked the plow so high into the air that the point would take no hold on the soil. It seems also as if only the most spiritless of equines would have submitted to the treatment, but that it was frequently done the act against it proves. The cruelty of the practice needs no demonstration; it could not have been profitable, but was perhaps preferable to starvation. Whether the English legislators were moved solely by pity of the miserable beast or whether they desired to make a market for English plows and harness does not appear.—From "A Farmer's Notebook," by C. E. D. Phelps.

Something Like That.

"Herr Schmidt is so fat that he can't get near enough to his counter to sell goods."

"H'm! Sort of a corporation in restraint of trade."—London Answers.
